CLOUDBURST DROWNS MORE THAN SCORE!

HOLD PUBLIC RECEPTION AT BANK

Crowds Gather Long Before Opening Hour, Eager to Visit New Rooms

With flags flying, orchestras playing and great crowds going through the big building in friendly concourse, the Glendale Security Building, Glendale's first "skyscraper," at Brand and Broadway, was thrown open to public inspection and a great public celebration at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Long before that hour several hundred people had gathered hoping to be the first to set foot in the handsome new building and metropolitan banking room.

Observe Flag Day

In honor both of flag day and the formal opening itself the Security bank had made the big structure beautiful with huge American flags and bunting. Similar decorations were carried out in the interior.

As the doors were opened a large throng congregated about the counter where the attractive booklet "First of the Ranchos the Story of Glendale," was given out as a souvenir of the occasion. The publicity department of the Security bank has been busy for several weeks gathering the material and the pictures that went into the booklet, and the praise received on all sides indicated that it will be mailed to all parts of the country as good Glendale advertising.

Picture in Contrast

The big exhibit of pictures showing by contrast the extraordinary growth of this city over a period of years was crowded from the beginning. In addition to views of Glendale were some very rare pictures, showing early days in the San Fernando valley while it was still the largest grain ranch in California.

The reception will continue un-

DETROIT, June 14.—Bob Meusel, outfielder, and Bert Cole, Detroit pitcher, have been suspended indefinitely for their part in the riot at Navin field, which broke up yesterday's game.

Further punishment will follow, according to President Ban Johnson, as soon as he can identify the persons guilty of precipitating the second outbreak, the one that led to the staging of the riot on the field by ten thousand fans.

In a telegram to Umpire Billy Evans, President Johnson declared that the whole thing was a disgrace to baseball.

FIXES DATE OF SECOND PAYMENT

Taxpayers Must Forward Installment by June 16, Asserts Goodcell

Two hundred thousand income taxpayers in Southern California will have until June 16 to pay their second installment of taxes, under a ruling made yesterday by Collector of Internal Revenue Rex B. Goodcell.

While the dead line is fixed for June 15, Collector Goodcell announced that as June 15 comes on Sunday, payments on the second installment will be accepted up to Monday, June 16. Payment made after that date puts the taxpayer in the delinquent class and subject to the usual penalties.

Explains Rules

Hundreds of telephone calls are being received daily from taxpayers who do not understand the procedure necessary to secure the benefit of the 25 per cent reduction in taxes on 1923 income, payable this year. Collector Goodcell set out these five simple rules for the guidance of taxpayers:

"The 25 per cent cut applies to personal income only; corporation taxes are not affected by the reduction.

"If the taxpayer paid one-fourth of his tax on March 15, he must pay on or before June 16 one-half of the amount he paid on March 15.

"If the taxpayer paid three-fourths of his tax on March 15, no further payment will be due.

"If the taxpayer paid one-half of his tax on March 15, no further payment will be due until September 15.

"To make it still clearer: If the taxpayer's total tax was $100 and he paid one-fourth, or $25 on March 15, on June 16 he must pay $12.50.

HERRIOT TO FORM NEW CABINET

Radical Socialist to Hold Foreign Portfolio and Premier's Post

By FRANK E. MASON
For International News Service.

PARIS, June 14.—Edouard Herriot, radical Socialist and one of the commanding leaders of the left bloc, which forced ex-President Alexandre Millerand from office, today accepted the premiership of France, and agreed to form a cabinet.

Herriot was summoned to the Elysee palace by President Doumergue. Upon leaving he issued the following statement:

"I have agreed to form a new cabinet. I intend to hold the portfolio of foreign affairs, as well as the premiership, myself. I will go to London next Saturday for a conference with Premier Ramsay Macdonald of England."

Marsal Cabinet Out

The stop-gap cabinet, headed by Frederic Francois Marsal, had resigned last night, after being in power five days, and the resignation was immediately accepted.

The new cabinet will be composed of members of the Herriot wing of the left bloc parties. This will give the left bloc political group complete control of the government.

NO VACATION FOR FORD EXECUTIVES

Five Days a Week Plan Cuts Off Two Weeks Holiday For Office Force

DETROIT, June 14.—Office employes and executives of the Ford Motor company will go without their customary two weeks' vacation this year under an order that went into effect today. About 23,000 men and women are affected.

Beginning today the Ford offices are to go on a five-day a week schedule. For the next twelve weeks these Saturdays off for the office employes are to be in lieu of the summer vacation each has received in the past.

If the five day week is continued in force after the end of twelve weeks, the pay of the employe is to be cut in proportion, they are notified.

Six weeks or so ago the factory employes were put on a five day basis. They have never been given vacations.

Henry Ford's views, as expressed by some of the executives, are that if the factory can accomplish all the required production in five days a week, it should not take longer than that for the office personnel to supervise production.

Charley Paddock's Record Falls At Olympic Finals

BULLETIN

HARVARD STADIUM, Cambridge, Mass., June 14.—Another world's record was broken in the Olympic tryouts here today when G. Taylor, Grinnell college, won the 400 metre hurdle event in 52 6-10 seconds. This time displaced not only the old standard of 54 seconds by Frank Loomis, but also bettered the record of 53 3-5 by Charles Brookins yesterday. Brookins finished second in this race, only a foot back, with C. F. Coulter of Iowa third and Ivan Riley, Illinois A. C., fourth.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 14.—Jackson V. Scholz, New York A. C., set up a new world's record for 200 metres by winning the semi-final heat in the final Olympic tryouts this afternoon in the glittering time of 20 9-10s. The performance not only shattered Charley Paddock's old mark of 21 2-10, but the 21 seconds' effort credited to Scholz in one of the heats yesterday.

Scholz' record accrued from a driving finish with Louis Clarke, Johns Hopkins; and Alf Leconey, Philadelphia, in second and third place.

Bill Neufeldt, University of California, carried off the honors in the javelin throw at 191 feet 1½ inches. Lee Priester, Mississippi A. & M., was 180 feet 7¾ inches, for second place, followed by Homer Welchel, Georgia Tech; William Healy, Andover academy, and E. Oberst, Notre Dame, in the order named.

Yesterday's qualifying effort of Clarence Houser, Southern California, in the shot put, stood up today and the coast entry was given first place over Glenn Hartranft, the Stanford strong man. Houser's winning put was 49 feet 11 1-8 inches, while Hartranft pulled himself up from fourth place to second with a toss of 49 feet ¼ inch. Ralph Hills, Princeton; Norman Anderson, U. S. C., and Charley Eastman, Harvard, also placed.

The thin, plaintive note of a bugle floated over the field from the top of the stadium wall, an American flag rose on its halyards and fluttered in the breeze, the band burst into the inspiring strains of the national anthem and 15,000 persons rose as one man in silent tribute to the colors and the country for which they stood.

In this manner, so eminently befitting a patriotic occasion, the finale of the tryouts for the American Olympic team were inaugurated here this afternoon.

The trials were conducted in a light sprinkle of rain that for the moment enhanced rather than reduced the speed of the track. It

Enrollment In Both Grade And High Schools Show Great Growth of Glendale

Lists of graduates at the Glendale Union High school, the Wilson Intermediate school and the Glendale Intermediate school are announced today. The names of the graduates appear in this edition of The Glendale Evening News. The High school list appears on page 5, the Wilson list appears on page 6 and the Glendale list appears on page 17. Also is printed the official program of exercises for each school.

With the two Glendale Intermediate schools graduating a total of 355 pupils this year, which will be augmented by probably fifty more from the districts outside of the city limits, George U. Moyse, principal of the Glendale Union High school, expects the enrollment of new pupils next fall to double the number that leave the High school by graduation next week.

With many other additional pupils entering from families that will move into Glendale during the summer, both the Broadway and Harvard street plants will be filled nearly to capacity by the end of the next school year. If the same per cent of increase holds this year as in the past, the elementary school system will be crowded beyond capacity, when school opens next September.

Great Growth

Nearly 800 freshmen have been using the Harvard Street school since the three upper classes moved into the new buildings on East Broadway, and are using practically the entire plant. The relative size of the high school now and a few years ago may be judged from the fact that the freshmen alone at the Harvard Street school are forced to hold two assemblies in order to accommodate all the pupils in the auditorium.

The Broadway building will comfortably take care of the increased enrollment next fall, it is stated, but there is a need for shop buildings and a gymnasium. The total enrollment for the two plants has been over 2000 this year. The enrollment for the entire elementary system, including

WOUNDED MAN IS HELD AS BANDIT

Identified by Mail Clerks And Train Crew, Police Officials Declare

CHICAGO, June 14.—J. H. Wayne, wounded man held under police guard at the county hospital following his arrest in company with two other men and a woman early today, was identified by members of the crew of the Milwaukee & St. Paul mail train as a member of the bandit band which Thursday night held up and looted the train of approximately a million dollars in cash and securities. Five postal clerks viewed Wayne and one of them was positive in identification.

The postal clerks were to be taken later to the federal building to view Walter McComb and his wife, and Paul Wade, who also were arrested when police broke down the door of the McComb flat. Officers found Wayne in bed suffering from wounds and he was taken to the county hospital. Police first said he was found by the roadside near Hammond. The two men and McComb were placed under arrest and taken to the federal building.

HEROISM OF TARS WINS PRAISE

Gunners Upheld Traditions Of Navy In Shocking Turret Tragedy

By COPELAND C BURG
For International News Service.

LOS ANGELES, June 14.—Sensational testimony that the turret blast on the U. S. S. Mississippi, which killed 48 gunners, resulted from an attempt of the man-of-war's bluejackets to establish a new target practice record, was given today before the naval board of inquiry investigating the tragedy.

Lieutenant-Commander Reinecke, chief gunner officer of the Mississippi, recalled today before the investigators contradicted his testimony of yesterday, when he referred to the explosion as a "flareback."

Charges Human Error

A "human" error, rather than a fault in the mechanism of the 14-inch gun, caused the blast when the Mississippi's Number 2 turret gunners strove to beat their own record as the navy's fastest turret crew, Reinecke testified.

The compressed air bore cleaner worked perfectly and the explosion could not have been caused by a tiny bit of flaming silk from a previous charge, the officer told the board.

Decision to forego an effort to obtain the official eye-witness story of Chief Turret Captain F. J. Rynes, who is dying on the hospital ship Relief, was made today by the navy probers after it was learned Rynes was too far in the shadow of death to be questioned.

Gassed to Death

Gassed to death in an iron clad turret was the fate of the forty-eight bluejackets killed on the U. S. S. Mississippi, according to testimony presented the naval board of inquiry as it resumed its sessions here today.

As the officers of the U. S. S. New Mexico and U. S. S. Mississippi, survivors of one of the greatest disasters in the history of the American navy, unfolded their stories before the inquiry board, it became more and more evident that the gunners were caught in a steel trap behind fused doors and without a chance to battle for their lives.

Captain's Tribute

PROBE INJURIES OF CRASH VICTIM

Kenneth W. Ufford Is Hurled From Car In Collision With P. E. Train

The Grand View avenue crossing of the Pacific Electric was the scene of an accident shortly after 5 o'clock last night, when a light sedan driven by Kenneth W. Ufford of 372 South Glendale avenue, a carpenter, was struck by Car No. 552, southbound, driven by Motorman H. S. Watson and in charge of Conductor W. Courlit, both of Los Angeles.

A report made to police headquarters by Charles P. Blake, detective sergeant, stated that the sedan was dragged a distance of approximately 175 feet before the trolley could be brought to a stop, Mr. Ufford being thrown out.

Victim in Hospital

The victim was rushed to the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital where an examination revealed that he sustained a fractured shoulder blade, broken ribs, probable internal injuries and a possible skull fracture. An X-ray examination is being made to determine the exact extent of the man's injuries.

Kenneth W. Ufford is 28 years old and married. He has so far been unable to give any account of how the accident happened. The car he drove was reduced to wreckage by the impact of the collision and is now in a local garage.

Flag Day Ceremony Becomes Memorial For Blast Victims

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Secretary of the Navy Wilbur today turned the observance of Flag Day at the navy department into a memorial for the forty-eight officers and men who lost their lives in the fatal gun turret explosion aboard the battleship Mississippi.

In spite of the serious damage caused to the battleship Mississippi by the gun turret explosion Thursday the ship will live up to navy traditions and carry on, operating this summer, on schedule, according to a despatch received at the navy department today from Vice Admiral Wiley, in command of the fleet in the Pacific.

AIR RACERS TO BATTLE FOR CUP

Eighteen Balloons to Start In Bennett Contest at Brussels Sunday

By FREDERICK K. ABBOTT
For International News Service.

BRUSSELS, June 14.—Eighteen balloons, representing seven nations, will take off here tomorrow in the thirteenth annual race for the James Gordon Bennett cup unless bad weather prevents. The starting hour is 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

There are three entrants from the United States representing the winners of the elimination balloon race which started from San Antonio, Texas, last month.

Pilots of the American balloons are Major Norman W. Peek, H. E. Honeywell and W. T. Van Orman. The United States has not won the cup since Upson's victory eleven years ago.

May End Contest

M. Demuyter has won the last two races for Belgium. If he wins this race the cup will remain in Belgium's possession permanently, thus ending all international competition for the trophy.

Other nations entered are Spain, Italy, Switzerland, France and England.

Bad weather has been prevailing. Airplanes will go aloft during the morning to test air currents before the order is given for the balloons to take off.

GREAT WALL OF WATER SWAMPS TOWNS

Northeastern Tennessee Hit By Terrific Storm; Big Property Damage

ATLANTA, Ga, June 14.—Twenty-two persons were drowned and several are missing as the result of a terrible cloudburst which inundated the low lands of northeastern Tennessee today, according to word received by the southern headquarters of the Red Cross here this afternoon.

The villages of Laurel Fork and Bremer were completely washed away, according to the meager dispatches. Special relief workers have been rushed to the scene.

Towns Washed Away

JOHNSON CITY, Tenn., June 14.—At least sixteen persons were killed in a cloudburst which descended near Hampton, Tenn., this morning, according to reports reaching here.

The Laurel Fork railroad and the town of Bremer, Tenn., have been entirely washed away.

Because of the almost complete destruction of communications, details are lacking, but the death list is expected to be much heavier. Property loss is said to be enormous.

At Carden's Bluff, Tenn., near Elizabethton the body of a 6-year-old girl was recovered, washed against a wire fence, where it had been lodged. The force of the cloudburst was so severe near the neighborhood of Carden's Bluff and Hunter it carried away a heavy concrete bridge.

Great Wall of Water

Laurel Fork, Hampton and Bremer are three small villages situated in valleys through which flow small streams.

These creeks were suddenly transformed into great walls of water, following the cloudburst, according to reports, spelling death and destruction to everything within their paths. In several places the narrow valleys were almost filled with the raging torrents.

A large number of persons were reported missing.

Great Hot Wave

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 14.—No relief could be promised today by the weather man from the hot wave which is passing over the southwest and western portions of the country.

Phoenix, Ariz., was the hottest spot in the country yesterday, the mercury rising to 112. Amarillo, Tex., recorded 104, and Oklahoma City 100, with correspondthe temperatures at other points in the southwest.

Intense suffering was felt in this city, where the humidity, normally about 40 per cent, rose to 78 per cent, with the temperature at the boiling point.

PLAN MANY NEW ENGLISH HOMES

British Will Be Decently Housed Through Move of Labor Government

LONDON, June 14.—"The Labor Government aims to complete 2,500,000 new houses in England within fifteen years," says Charles Coppock, general secretary of the Federation of Building Trade Workers.

"This is 500,000 less than the number we aim at completing. It will mean the greatest revolution ever achieved in Britain. Everyone concerned is going the right way to work. Builders, manufacturers, workers are all agreed on the lines to adopt. Industry is prepared to use every effort to see the work through. When we have finished England should be decently housed, and the housing scandal ended forever.

"We hope to see our proposals ratified by the House of Commons immediately."

MILLIONS STILL IN PLACER BIDS

State Mineralogist's Report Shows That Pay Dirt Is Easily Accessible

SACRAMENTO, June 14.—Mining methods in keeping with the provisions of the Caminetti act will permit of taking gold estimated at $600,000,000 from the four billion cubic yards of pay gravel easily available in placer beds, according to a report issued today by State Mineralogist Lloyd L. Root.

"Though more than $1,000,000 has been taken from placer mines in California since 1848," said Root, "the idea that they are exhausted is erroneous."

FIGHT IMPENDING OVER RENO TAXES

Service Station Men Claim That Additional Cent Will Ruin Trade

RENO, June 14.—Owners of automobile service stations in Reno are making vigorous protest against the proposed tax of 1 cent on gasoline sold within the city limits.

Following a recent decision of the state supreme court that such municipal tax was legal, the city council has drafted an ordinance providing a one cent tax.

Operators claim that such a tax would be discriminatory and that much of the patronage would be diverted to stations outside the city limits which will escape the tax. They are opposed to any tax in addition to the state tax, but declare that if additional taxation is to be imposed it should be made county-wide in scope.

Allied Commissioners Plan To Leave First Country Under Treaty Pact

SOFIA, June 14.—Aas a result of the final settlement of Bulgaria's financial and other obligations incurred by treaties negotiated at the close of the World War the Allied Reparations commission which has been in Sofia for many months is preparing to leave the country. Sir Eliot Colvin, chief of the English mission, and his staff already has departed and the remaining Entente representatives will leave within the next few weeks. The work which the Commission has been doing will hereafter be performed by the various legations.

Departure of the commission relieves Bulgaria of an annual expense of approximately 50,000,000 leva for its maintenance. Bulgaria likewise gains the distinction of being the first of the defeated nations to settle all of its treaty obligations and free itself from strict allied control.

SOCIETY HELP TO BUSINESS CAREER

Maid Who Can Flirt, Play Bridge Has Advantage, Says Countess

LONDON, June 14.—A girl who can dance, flirt a little, play a good game of bridge and organize a charity bazaar has a lot better chance of succeeding in business than one who can not. That is why, according to the Countess of Clonmell, the "society girl," when she enters the business world, so often is a success.

The Countess of Clonmell speaks with a voice of authority. She forsook a high position in British society for the shop two years ago and has made a success as the proprietor and active manager of a prosperous laundry.

"No one seems to realize," Lady Clonmell said, "what an excellent training for business is offered by the London drawing-room and all it stands for. Tact, poise, courtesy, charm are all learned at their best in a drawing-room, and without these fair qualities no business woman can be successful.

"If you can run a charity matinee, for example, without stepping on anyone's toes, believe me, business is easy. The girl who will play thirty-six holes of golf and then go and dance until two in the morning is by no means uncommon. This may be frivolous, but it is certainly energetic.

WEDDING UNITES POPULAR COUPLE AT BRIDE'S HOME

Harriett L. Gonzales Weds Charles H. Tanner In Solemn Ceremony

A beautiful wedding ceremony was solemnized today, June 14, 1924, at high noon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Gonzales, 412 North Louise street, when their daughter, Miss Harriett Louise Gonzales, and Charles H. Tanner, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Tanner of 725 South Catalina street, Los Angeles, were united in marriage.

About thirty relatives and friends of the bridal couple witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Walter Buckner, pastor of Pasadena Methodist church.

The Gonzales home had been artistically decorated for the wedding with a profusion of spring flowers and potted ferns and palms. A bank of greenery intermingling with white flowers formed an artistic setting for the bridal party.

Wedding Music

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Virginia Burmister of Los Angeles sang "O Promise Me," accompanied on the piano by Miss Margaret Bullock of Los Angeles, who also played the Lohengrin wedding march.

For the wedding Miss Gonzales wore a rich gown of beige colored chiffon made over peach silk, with a picture hat to match. She carried a shower bouquet of white bride's roses and lilies of the valley. She was given in marriage by her father, F. B. Gonzales. There were no attendants.

Immediately after the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served, after which Mr. and Mrs. Tanner left for a motor trip to Lake Tahoe and other northern points.

Valuable Gifts

Mr. and Mrs. Tanner were the recipients of many lovely gifts from their host of relatives and friends. Among the gifts was a chest of silver, cut glass, art glassware, china, silverware, linens and many other beautiful furnishings for their new home.

Mrs. Tanner and her parents have been residents of Glendale for the past twelve years. She is a graduate of the local high school

SENIORS GUESTS OF JUNIOR CLASS

Athletic Program Is Staged At Brookside Park In Students' Picnic

The senior class of the local high school was entertained by the juniors yesterday afternoon at Brookside park in the annual junior-senior entertainment, in which the eleventh year class acts as host to the graduates. A program of athletic events and swimming in the plunge were the amusements participated in during the afternoon.

At 6 o'clock the members of the two classes gathered around the picnic tables for the tamale supper that had been prepared by the juniors. The program during the supper hour consisted of take-offs on prominent seniors, and other stunts. A junior jazz orchestra provided music for the occasion.

Other events to be participated in by members of the senior class during the next week are the baccalaureate exercises tomorrow, the senior banquet on Tuesday night, and the senior prom on Friday night.

ALUMNAE INSTAL CLUB'S OFFICERS AT FIRST PICNIC

College Women Will Attend Pasadena Garden Party Friday, June 20

Officers of 1924-1925 of the Glendale College Women's club were formally installed this afternoon at the first annual play day of the club in Griffith park.

Club members and guests motored over to the park late this morning and at noon enjoyed a picnic lunch.

Honored guest of the club was Miss Anne Mumford of the University Women's club of Los Angeles and corresponding secretary of the California organization of the American Association of University Women. Miss Mumford was present at the organization of the club in 1923 and she was invited to serve as installing officer this afternoon. Another significant thing about the invitation extended her is that the Glendale College Women's club is a branch of the A. A. U. W., of which she is corresponding secretary in California.

Invited to Pasadena

After the luncheon hour, Mrs. A. I. Ferguson, retiring president, presided over a short business meeting.

An invitation was read from the Pasadena College Women's club inviting the Glendale club members to a garden party Friday afternoon, June 20, at the spacious home of Mrs. Elbridge M. Fowler at 363 Grove street. The invitation was accepted with pleasure, and a large delegation will go from Glendale to the affair.

Consideration was given two amendments to the by-laws. One amendment provides for the addition of a parliamentarian, an historian and an auditor to the executive board. The other has to do with the time when dues become delinquent. Both were approved.

Increase Fund

Announcement was made that through Mrs. D. F. Reichard, program chairman, the balance of $75 in her hands at the close of the year has been added by consent of the board of directors to the scholarship fund, making a total of $227.54. This money will undoubtedly be loaned to some deserving young woman to assist her in going to college next year.

During the meeting the club went on record as heartily endorsing the coming library bond election.

Officers installed by Miss Mumford were Mrs. Frank Parr, president; Mrs. George U. Moyse, vice president; Miss Jessie M. Hill, recording secretary; Mrs. W. E. Lusby, corresponding secretary, and Miss Hazel White, treasurer.

Dramatic Club Holds Last Meet of Season

The closing meeting of the Glendale Dramatic club was held Thursday night at the Emerson School of Self-Expression on South Glendale avenue.

During the business hour there were an address by the president, Mrs. G. Edwin Murphy, and annual reports by the officers.

Later a lunch was served by Mrs. Evelyn M. S. Labadie and Miss Besse Long.

C. A. Comfort entertained with several songs, and Miss Ina Michell, who has appeared in musical comedy in New York, gave a group of her favorite selections.

The club members expressed their appreciation to Mrs. Labadie for her help and assistance during the past year.

Masons' Steak Dinner To Be Next Saturday

It was erroneously announced in yesterday's issue of The Evening News that the Glendale Masons would hold their annual beefsteak dinner this afternoon at the Whiting ranch in La Crescenta. The date of the dinner is one week from today, June 21. All Glendale Masonic organizations will take part in the affair on that date. The party will assemble at the Masonic temple at 2:30 o'clock and proceed by motor car to the ranch, headed by the Sciot band.

Arnold, Clarke Secure Franchise at Lincoln

Larry Arnold and Josh Clarke, well known in baseball circles in Glendale and Southern California as the former pilots of the Sawtelle and Shell Oilers, respectively, have acquired the franchise of the Lincoln club of the Western league, according to word reaching here today. Bob Wallace, who is slated to hurl for the Gilmore Oil team today against the White Sox, has received an offer from Arnold, it is reported. Indications point to a number of promising youngsters of Southern California breaking into big league time through the medium of the Lincoln club.

Herman Nelson Is Elected Chairman Sewer Committee

The Citizens' Sewer committee met and organized at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the City hall. Herman Nelson was named chairman; W. L. Truitt, vice-chairman, and Bert P. Woodard, secretary. Alexander Mitchell was also present. John A. Logan, the remaining member of the committee, was absent.

Following organization, an informal discussion of the sewer situation was had. It was decided to request the City Council to submit complete data on the situation, in order that the committee may act intelligently.

LAY CORNERSTONE OF HOME SUNDAY

Structure To Be First of Kind in Country; Plan Patriotic Program

The laying of the cornerstone and flag base of the memorial home of the Daughters of Civil War Veterans located in Sawtelle at Granville and Goshen streets, which was to have taken place May 11, and indefinitely postponed, will take place tomorrow, Sunday, June 15, at 2 o'clock.

A large delegation of members of the local W. R. C. and G. A. R. post as well as the Sons of Veterans, Daughters of Veterans and auxiliary of the Sons of Veterans are planning on attending.

First in Country

The building of this memorial home marks a great step forward in the life of the Daughters of Veterans' organization. It is the first in the United States to be built by the Daughters of Veterans and the G. A. R. and other patriotic organizations are indeed proud of their achievement.

JUNE FIESTA AT SCHOOL GROUNDS ATTRACTS CROWD

Noted Artists on Program Aid Art Association's Entertainment

Beneath a bright June moon a brilliant fiesta took place last night on the tennis courts at the Harvard High school, where the Glendale Art association was host.

Mrs. Roy Ballagh, president, other officers and Mrs. John W. Cotton and Mrs. Alexander Mitchell of the program committee, had carried out elaborate plans for the affair, and the only regret was that a larger crowd of Glendale people was not present for the unique entertainment.

However, the wonderful program and other features of the fiesta have set a precedent for all future affairs given by the association.

Talented Artists

Among those appearing on the program were Miss Viola Yorba, Milford C. Jackson, Keaumoku A. Lewis, vocalists; Miss Barbara Mitchell, pianologuist; Mrs. J. H. Fotheringham, whistler. Mrs. Gertrude Erb served as accompanist.

In keeping with the fiesta spirit were the clever dances included in the program. Miss Evelyn Thomas of Eagle Rock appeared in an oriental number. Then a group of pupils from the Pearl Keller School of Dancing gave numbers that were prominent in the recent recital program given in Los Angeles.

TOO MANY ACCIDENTS

Every time the clock ticked last year, three persons were injured in automobile accidents within the confines of the United States, a total of 1,700,000 casualties from this cause alone during 1923. Of the injured, every thirty-five minutes during the year, one died, a total of 15,000 fatalities in twelve months, solely because of motor car accidents.

This is a condition of guerilla warfare that must be stamped out. The automobile is a deadly weapon. In incompetent hands it becomes an erratic boomerang that deals death and destruction. Picture an army half schooled in the weapons of warfare, rushing about the country, firing and bayonetting at random, not knowing what they are about.

A similar condition exists on the highways, where utterly incompetent men, women and children are propelling motor cars they know not even how to steer, let alone how to control. It is a situation that menaces even the most competent drivers, who frequently perish along with these incompetents. The answer is rigid laws compelling examinations, physical and mental, of all drivers.

KEEP MONEY FLUID

No American, be he rich or poor, can afford to "bear" the United States and sell it "short," which is the Wall Street way of saying that U. S. A. preferred is on the rise.

Wages and labor conditions are better than ever before. The building trades are enjoying unprecedented prosperity. There is virtually a job for every worker. The people, it is calculated, daily save and invest $30,000,000, a yearly addition to the American wealth of over $10,000,000,000, or half the cost of the war.

Prosperity is not somewhere off in a tree. It is right here. But the only way it can be kept here is by keeping money fluid. The way to keep money fluid is to constantly maintain the desire to buy. Advertising does this, simply and directly and without cost—for advertising pays for itself times over in increased business.

HAPPINESS IN AMERICA

If Americans are not the happiest people on the face of the earth, they assuredly ought to be. A writer in the Atlantic Monthly says they are. "Wherever you go in the whole vast territory of the states," he says, "you discover that sort of freedom in the soul which is the breeding soil of happiness."

Several people do not agree with this writer. Cynics, pessimists, bolshevists and dyspeptics do not agree with him. To them America is the anathema of happiness. The Japanese do not think so, however, and are much put out because they can't come here any more.

Some folks are not happy until the thing that should make them happy is taken away. Those who are so wretchedly unhappy in America should try some other country—if there are any left that will have them, that have not already gone to the dogs because of cynicism, pessimism, bolshevism and dyspepsia!

BUILDING MAKES HISTORY

No story could tell so plainly of the growth of Glendale; there is nothing quite so emblamatic of the evolution of the city as the change that has taken place on the northeast corner of Brand and Broadway. Until a short time ago a little bungalow railway station with overhanging roof to form a shady out-of-door waiting room occupied this corner and made it the center of the city. There were palm trees in the parking on both sides of the building, the whole was artistic and typical of a small western city, entirely appropriate and suitable for Glendale.

The six-story office building that now stands on the site of the little, squat railway station is modern in every particular and it tells its own story of the growth of Glendale and the passing of the days of Glendale's villagehood.

THAT ANNUAL OUTING

Fatal vacations is a combination of words tragic by its very juxtaposition and fortunately fewer deaths are occurring each year at or after vacation time, due largely to growing intelligence about outdoor life.

Drownings, long a grim nemesis of vacationists, is diminishing steadily as more people learn how to swim and how to revive water victims. Typhoid, another blight on summer outings, has largely lost its terrors, with inoculations and spread of knowledge regarding contaminated water supply.

With the increasing vogue of outdoor recreation the year around, particularly in Southern California, which is admittedly nature's playground, the vacationer is in better condition for his annual outing, both mentally and physically, and does not deem it necessary to crowd a whole year's exercise into one or two weeks.

EXPERIENCE AS A TEACHER

One of the sad things about life is that so much has to be learned from experience. Parents and teachers tell children all about the results of wrong-doing, but each individual thinks himself an exception to the rule. When school boys commit burglaries and even murder they know that few do these things without suffering the consequences, yet they are sure they can "get away with it." If young people could only take the advice of those who are older and wiser how much trouble might be avoided. Experience is the best teacher, but we often come from her school sadder as well as wiser.

From a morning paper: "O. R. Benedict has been neglected president of the Chamber of Commerce of Huntington Park." Don't you stand for it, Mr. President, there is a law of redress for neglected benedicts.

A general of Spain asks the newspapers of that country to "promote public interest" in the visit to Spain of the Italian king and queen. Fine to have a general for a press agent.

There are but few murders in England, many in the United States. Yes, and the newspapers of England are of the non-sensational kind. Perhaps there's a connection.

When a minister of the gospel goes wrong, that is considered sensational news in many newspaper offices. That is a great tribute to the cloth.

Something to be thankful for is the fact that the man with the small income gets the largest percentage of reductions in his taxes.

Prohibition and Drinking Songs

By DR. FRANK CRANE

Has the Eighteenth Amendment destroyed the light opera industry?

John Philip Sousa, in his testimony before the House patents committee the other day, declared that prohibition had destroyed the light opera industry because it had required drinking songs of the rollicking kind and "we can't write them nowadays; apparently the inspiration is lacking."

This is the hub of the whole matter. If we are to declare ourselves permanently for the program of prohibition we will have to go back and rearrange the traditions of the world.

Always drinking has been a merry jest. It has been made one by the youth, who are prepared to fling away their lives at the slightest instigation.

Drinking has interwoven its roots very deeply with the traditions of civilization.

The trouble is that it has been an easy short-cut for the common man to escape from the tragedy of life.

The usual avenues of intoxication have been closed to him. The opportunities for culture and travel and books have been shut in his face by his own limitations. There remains nothing for him to do except to get drunk.

The Eighteenth Amendment renders it necessary that, if a man shall get out of himself, he shall get up. He can no longer escape by the short-cut of alcohol.

After all, the deep issues that underlie the consumption of alcohol are not to be fought out in the exalted plane by the Dr. Butlers of society, but are to be settled upon the lower plane of the instincts.

Those who love their country cannot resist the feeling of pleasure that the corner grog shop has been closed and that the multitude of them that sought it have been forced to go elsewhere.

There never has been a time when the savings of the country have more increased and its general welfare been more promoted than since the passage of the prohibition amendment.

The people know this. They see it before their eyes. It comes home to men's business and bosoms.

And not all the argument or special pleading of those who are opposed to prohibition, largely because of the character of those who champion it, will be of any avail.

Eventually it is a question that will be settled by conscience, and conscience always speaks for the greatest number.

PEACE BUILT ON DESPAIR
(From San Diego Union)

Peace will come when nations, like individuals, come to know and understand one another, an American Rotary club orator tells a convention crowd of British Rotarians. Across the channel in France, a spokesman of entirely different character—an old man who writes with trembling hand—Anatole France, master of the irony and passion of words—tells his fellow countrymen that peace is bound to come. In our land, thousands of intelligent Americans today are discussing peace more earnestly than the great problem has ever been discussed before.

All over the world, if expression by written or spoken word is to be taken as a criterion, the will to peace is gaining in power. Are we really on the threshold of permanent peace? Is the vision which has appeared so often, and so often vanished, at last to become a reality?

We thought at one time, of course, that the World war was "a war to end war." We expected that the world-wide reaction on war's terror and futility would lend an overwhelming power to some well-reasoned scheme for eliminating it forever. Thousands upon thousands of human beings died with some such dim hope in mind, and survivors looked eagerly for some immediate structure of permanent peace upon the ashes of the great conflict.

Nothing of the sort came about. The shattered hopes, the smouldering hatreds and the heavy pessimism of that time form a bitter episode in history. No review of it is needed, nor has any accurate appraisal of causes yet been made. The aftermath of the great war brought a regime of despair. Its effects linger still.

Bitter as that world experience was, despair is not the intelligent reaction upon it. Despair is not the permanent effect of it. The very bitterness of the experience guarantees the hope that a way to end war will yet be found.

Had the war brought some general, white-hot passion for peace all over the world, and had some structure for guaranteeing peace been devised in that period of righteous enthusiasm, it is likely that the structure would be crumbling today. Nothing permanent could have been built upon any such crusader enthusiasm. Such an enthusiasm would have been as fleeting as the flurries of artificial "hate" and artificial "patriotism" which marked various phases of the war itself.

At this time, the world war has come near tasting the very dregs of war. War, and war enthusiasm, have been superseded—not by a great wave of enthusiasm for peace—but a vast weariness and cynical disgust. We have failed to reap even an active will to peace. We are getting ready to write war off the books as a total loss.

The American Rotarian, the aged Anatole France, the churchly orators of the various assemblages now in convention, and every-day people everywhere, are daring to turn to this renewed hope—not with any war-born enthusiasm, but thoughtfully, earnestly and courageously.

Peace will not be established by dragging out ancient platitudes, signing silly pacifist pledges or making speeches. But the will to peace is growing—and in that there is hope.

TO CRITICS

When I was seventeen I heard
From each censorious tongue.
"I'd not do that if I were you;
You see you're rather young."

Because I'm quite too old.

The People —of— Anytown

Character Sketches

We didn't know much about publicity men and press agents when I lived in Anytown, but I often think of how young Max Streeter applied the principles of present-day advertising to himself and how he "sold himself" to Anytown.

Young Streeter was not an Anytown boy. He might have found it more difficult to convince us of his superiority if he had been born and reared in Anytown, but he came, as a young man, from the city to clerk in Anderson's drug store.

His capabilities were exceptional; he was bright far beyond the average; his accomplishments were phenomenal; his experiences has been many and varied. We knew all this to be true because he told us himself and he impressed it upon us by repetition and reiteration.

Young Streeter was just a good looking, average American boy; bright, but no exceptionally so. His ego was greatly exaggerated, for when other young men seek amusement and recreation outside of business hours he spent his spare time press agenting himself. I don't think Max expected to gain anything by making himself out a superman. It just ticked his vanity to have others believe he was old in experience.

We know the superiority of various articles on the market today, not so much because we have used them, but because we have seen certain statements made about them again and again in advertisements. Slogans and trade-marks oft repeated have made us familiar with the excellence of certain goods. Just so Max Streeter impressed upon us his accomplishments and experiences; and, strange as it seems to me now, we believed him. It did not seem incongruous then that one so young had been through so much and that one of such ability and achievement should be holding such an unimportant position.

According to Young Streeter's stories he had held splendid positions in nearly all the large cities of the United States and he had resigned, though in every case he had been importuned to remain. He had hunted big game in Africa and caught big fish in almost every stream in the world. He never hesitated to discuss any place or any topic with any one. We never heard him admit there was anythin he didn't know, any place he hadn't seen or any experience that hadn't befallen him. He was of the type that isn't contented very long in one place, and his stay in Anytown was short, but while he was there he kept us informed and entertained. If Max Streeter had been all the places he said he had been, and done all he said he had done, he would have been an old man when he came to Anytown instead of a youth of twenty-five.

THE CASE OF JENNIE BRICE

By MARY ROBERTS RINEHART

Copyright, 1924, by The McClure Newspaper Syndicate

The story so far:

Mrs. Pitman, who tells the story, ran away from home to marry, and was never reconciled to her old Pittsburgh family, although she returned to her home town to live after she became a widow. She kept boarders in what was then lower Allegheny, where, because there were floods every year, rents were cheap. One March there was an unusually high flood. Miss Jennie Brice, as she was known on the stage, was having an unusually quarrelsome time with her husband, Mr. Ladley. Mrs. Pitman overheard them talking with a man, and Miss Brice said, "That's all very well, but what about that prying she-devil that runs the house?" That night the water rose high, and in the middle of the night another boarder, Mr. Reynolds, woke Mrs. Pitman to say somebody had just rowed away in the boat she had tied to the stairs in the lower hall. Mrs. Pitman later saw Mr. Ladley returning. He said he had been out for medicine for his wife. Peter, the dog, finds a slipper of Mrs. Ladley's floating in the parlor, and later a big knife of Mrs. Pitman's, with the blade broken. Mr. Ladley offers to pay Mrs. Pitman for a pillow slip he says was burned with a cigarette, and says his wife really was not ill, but went away in the night. A benevolent old gentleman, rowing around to feed stranded animals, stops at Mrs. Pitman's, and offers to help her. His name is Holcombe. They discover that an onyx clock from the mantelpiece in Ladley's room is missing. They also find a blood-stained towel. Mr. Howell, a young newspaper man, comes to help Holcombe. Mrs. Pitman finds a slip of paper on which is written, "Rope, knife, shoe, towel. Horn—" Lida Harvey, Mrs. Pitman's niece, who has never seen her, comes to the house with Howell. Mr. Holcombe comes to live in the Ladley's room. He takes some of Ladley's whiskey and it poisons him. Mrs. Pitman sees Jennie Brice's fur coat in Molly Maguire's yard next door. She recognizes Mr. Howell's voice as the one she heard in the Ladley's room the day before the disappearance. He admits it. Mr. Ladley comes back and takes the room he and his wife had before the flood, under that occupied by Mr. Holcombe. When Ladley's room is repapered, an arrangement of mirrors is concealed in it so that Holcombe can see everything that goes on. Through this periscope he sees a visitor, Bronson, business manager of the Liberty Theater, bring Ladley money, and hears them speak of Eliza Schaffer and Llewellyn. He sees Ladley reading in the papers the announcement of a body found in the flood waters. Tim, a river peddler, tells the detective Graves that he helped Ladley the night of the flood to get out of the river current to shore. Molly Maguire's husband says he found the fur coat on an ice cake, and rescued it, thinking it was a dog.

TODAY'S INSTALLMENT

XVIII—LIDA QUESTIONS

I was certain it was Jennie Brice's coat, but the maker's name had been ripped out. With Molly holding one arm and I the other, we took it to Mr. Ladley's door and knocked. He opened it, grumbling.

"I have asked you not to interrupt me," he said, with his pen in his hand. His eyes fell on the coat. "What's that?" he asked, changing color.

"I think it's Mrs. Ladley's fur coat," I said.

He stood there looking at it and thinking. Then: "It can't be hers," he said. "She wore hers when she went away."

"Perhaps she dropped it in the water."

He looked at me and smiled. "And why would she do that?" he asked, mockingly. "Was it out of fashion?"

"That's Mrs. Ladley's coat," I persisted, but Molly Maguire jerked it from me and started away. He stood there looking at me and smiling in his nasty way.

"This excitement is telling on you, Mrs. Pitman," he said coolly. "You're too emotional for detective work." Then he went in and shut the door.

When I went downstairs, Molly Maguire was waiting in the kitchen, and had the audacity to ask me if I thought the coat needed a new lining!

It was on Monday evening that the strangest event in years happened to me. I went to my sister's house! And the fact that I was admitted at a side entrance made it even stranger. It happened in this way:

Supper was over, and I was cleaning up, when an automobile came to the door. It was Alma's car. The chauffeur gave me a note:

"Dear Mrs. Pitman—I am not at all well, and very anxious. Will you come to see me at once? My mother is out to dinner, and I am alone. This car will bring you.

"Cordially,
"Lida Harvey."

I put on my best dress at once and got into the limousine. Half the neighborhood was out watching. I leaned back in the upholstered seat, fairly quivering with excitement. This was Alma's car; that was Alma's card-case; the little clock had her monogram on it. Even the flowers in the flower holder, yellow tulips, reminded me of Alma—a trifle showy, but good to look at! And I was going to her house!

I was not taken to the main entrance, but to a side door. The queer dream-like feeling was still there. In this back hall, relegated from the more conspicuous part of the house, there were even pieces of furniture from the old home, and my father's picture, in an oval gilt frame, hung over my head. I had not seen a picture of him for twenty years. I went over and touched it gently.

"Father, father!" I said.

Under it was the tall hall chair that I had climbed over as a child, and had stood on many times, to see myself in the mirror above. The chair was newly finished and looked the better for its age. I glanced in the old glass. The chair had stood time better than I. I was a middleaged woman, lined with poverty and care, shabby, prematurely gray, a little hard. I had thought my father an old man when that picture was taken, and now I was even older. "Father!" I whispered again, and fell to crying in the dimly lighted hall.

Lida sent for me at once. I had only time to dry my eyes and straighten my hat. Had I met Alma on the stairs, I would have passed her without a word. She would not have known me. But I saw no one.

Lida was in bed. She was lying there with a rose-shaded lamp beside her, and a great bowl of spring flowers on a little stand at her elbow. She sat up when I went in, and had a maid place a chair for me beside the bed. She looked very childish, with her hair in a braid on the pillow, and her slim young arms and throat bare.

"I'm so glad you came!" she said, and would not be satisfied until the light was just right for my eyes, and my coat was unfastened and thrown open.

"I'm not really ill," she informed me. "I'm—I'm just tired and nervous, and—and unhappy, Mrs. Pitman."

"I am sorry," I said. I wanted to lean over and pat her hand, to draw the covers around her and mother her a little—I had had no one to mother for so long—but I could not. She would have thought it queer and presumptuous—or no, not that. She was too sweet to have thought that.

"Mrs. Pitman," she said suddenly, "who was this Jennie Brice?"

"She was an actress. She and her husband lived at my house."

"Was she—was she beautiful?"

"Well," I said slowly, "I never thought of that. She was handsome, in a large way."

"Was she young?"

"Yes. Twenty-eight or so."

"That isn't very young," she said, looking relieved. "But I don't think men like very young women. Do you?"

"I know one who does," I said, smiling. But she sat up in bed suddenly and looked at me with her clear childish eyes.

"I don't want him to like me!" she flashed. "I—I want him to hate me."

"Tut, tut! You want nothing of the sort."

"Mrs. Pitman," she said, "I sent for you because I'm nearly crazy. Mr. Howell was a friend of that woman. He has acted like a maniac since she disappeared. He doesn't come to see me, he has given up his work on the paper, and I saw him today on the street—he looks like a ghost."

That put me to thinking.

"He might have been a friend," I admitted. "Although, as far as I know, he was never at the house but once, and then he saw both of them."

"When was that?"

"Sunday morning, the day before she disappeared. They were arguing something."

She was looking at me attentively. "Mrs. Pitman," she said. "You—do you think Jennie Brice is dead, and that Mr. Howell knows—who did it?"

"I think she is dead, and I think possibly Mr. Howell suspects who did it. He does not know or he would have told the police."

"You do not think he was—was in love with Jennie Brice, do you?"

"I'm certain of that," I said. "He is very much in love with a foolish girl, who ought to have more faith in him than she has."

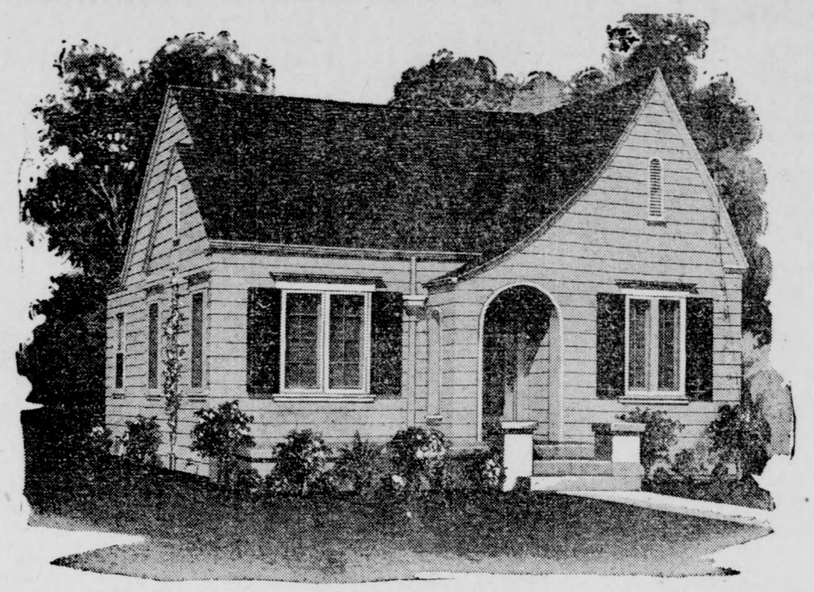
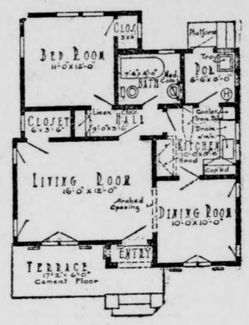
Combines Three Styles

Dutch, English and Colonial architecture are happily blended in the make-up of this typical California home, with its air of spacious comfort and convenience. Picture by courtesy of Low Building Co., authorized agents for Pacific Ready-Cut Homes, Inc.





California architecture has become a melting pot for all manner of designs. California themes are combined with Dutch and Flemish architecture, while the truly Spanish types are combined with Moorish and Italian Renaissance. Here, for example, is a home that reflects three tendencies of architecture—Dutch, English and colonial. It is not a large house but it certainly has the appearance of being such. The scooped roof effect is not expensive but it gives an artistic appearance to the home. This home was recently erected in the West Wilshire district in Los Angeles and has been highly admired by all who have inspected it. PAY TRIBUTE TO HEROIC SAILORS lips of the ill-fated man-of-war's commander, Captain W. D. Brotherton.

Testimony at Probe Shows Gunners Died at Posts In Turret Blast

"They all did their duty as men and I have nothing but praise for them," Brotherton half sobbed out on the witness stand.

In his recital of the great sea tragedy, Brotherton, as well as Ensign J. J. Levisseur of the New Mexico and Commander Joseph H. Trainer, chief medical officer of the Mississippi, could find nothing to aid in revealing the cause of the blast and it became apparent that probably the circumstances surrounding the explosion will never be known.

Heat Fuses Doors

Nothing has been told either by witnesses to explain how a second explosion rocked Los Angeles harbor, sending a shell in the path of the steamship Yale, after the stricken Mississippi had returned from sea, four hours after the first accident.

Testimony of the Mississippi's own officers was that the doors of turret No. 2, where they said "something went wrong" with a big 14-inch gun, were melted like wax, then fused to the floor.

Ensign Donald Smith, with a gas mask, entered the sealed cauldron first through the one flame-proof hatch on the turret and then the terribly gassed and burned bodies were carried out one by one. The first bodies found were jammed tight against the hatchway.

Long after the explosion it was impossible to breathe in the turret, filled with lethal gas, which must have sent the gunners to their deaths almost instantly, the officers testified.

May Hold Secret

F. J. Hynes, turret captain, will be the most important witness before the inquiry, it was learned today. He is badly burned and may not be able to testify for days.

Hynes' story is particularly wanted by the investigators as he was directly in charge of the turret.

Captain Brotherton's testimony completely absolves the officers and men of any blame for the disaster.

The naval board, appointed by Vice-Admiral Henry A. Wiley, is comprised of Captain Yates Sterling of the U. S. S. New Mexico, Captain W. S. Crosley of the Idaho and Lieutenant-Commander E. J. Foy of the New Mexico. Lieutenant-Commander T. S. Boyd, judge advocate, is questioning the witnesses.

Mourning Period

As the exhaustive inquiry of the sea catastrophe continued today, Los Angeles prepared to pay a great tribute to the dead gunners Sunday. All societies, clubs and conventions have suspended programs and Acting Mayor Boyle Workman has declared the city in mourning.

The hospital ship Relief still held its ghastly cargo of dead, dying and seared men early today. When the bodies will be removed and sent to their final voyages to their homes in every section of the country is not known.

That's All

Courage In Crisis
The Final Message
Tribute Of Sorrow
Democrats Are Next

By Gil A. Cowan

Humans cannot help but thrill at the tales of heroism told regarding the officers and men of the United States navy who paid with their lives Thursday for the privilege of defending their country and their flag when a gunnery accident overtook forty-eight of the bravest boys who ever lived.

Brave—brave—brave. The very handling of TNT in a turret of a battleship takes courage and nerve and experience. But when it comes to a time when it is "your life or mine," those men drilled in warfare laid down their lives that others might live. They stayed by their posts with the exception of the two or three who were in position to escape.

And they would have gladly died had it not been folly for them to have done so with only an open hatch to literally fall into for a forty-foot slide into the powder room below.

The commanding officer of the U. S. S. Mississippi had nothing but words of commendation for his men. They simply did their duty.

But there is one of the dead—an unknown hero, perhaps, although surmise identifies him as Stanley Skrynas of Westbrook, Me.,—who was able to flash the word, "Fire in Number Two, Sir," to the man next in command.

He died with the headset phone fastened to him. He died at his post as did the others. But his heroism and that of the others will live on in the history of the American navy.

And so it is that on Sunday a day of mourning will be observed for those men who gave their lives to their country.

Each and every one of us can pause a moment and reflect what their sacrifice meant, for they all were young men.

And life is most sweet to a young man.

Now that the Republican national convention is a thing of the past and the General Federation of Women's clubs has shut up shop in Los Angeles, we may expect to have a few scandals, murders and divorces until the Democrats open their conclave in New York.

By clearing away the underbrush on Samoa, it is believed the trade winds will rid that island of the mosquito pests that rob the natives of their vitality.

PITTSBURGH, June 14.—Guckenheimer and Brothers company, distillers, of Freeport, Pa., and six individuals found guilty of conspiracy in connection with the withdrawal of thousands of gallons of whisky from their warehouses on forged and counterfeit permits, were sentenced here today in federal court by Judge Schoonmaker.

Joseph Tice, also convicted, was unable to appear in court because of illness and will be sentenced on June 23.

McAdoo and Managers Start for Convention

LOS ANGELES, June 14.—"These are solemn days for the republic, and it is an inspiring thing to see the hosts of democracy, speaking through their representatives, select the men who are to represent the two major political parties in the pending contest for the presidency of this great nation."

This was declared here today by William Gibbs McAdoo, as he left with his western campaign managers and a corps of secretaries for the Democratic national convention in New York.

Coolidge Orders Pay Increase for July, 1

WASHINGTON, June 14.—President Coolidge today came to the relief of approximately 480,000 employes in the field service of the government by directing that beginning July 1 the increase in salary given them by the last Congress shall become effective.

This action was taken because the bill granting the increase was not signed by the presiding officer of the House and Senate because of congestion of business, and was therefore not submitted to the president for approval.

British Tennis Title Won by Yankee Girl

LONDON, June 14.—America today won the title in the British tennis championship, when Miss Elizabeth Ryan, former Californian, defeated Miss Kathleen McKane, England's best woman player, 6-8, 6-1, 6-1, in the final match of the Kent tournament.

Transfers in May Reach Total Of $85,643,000

Transfers of real estate in Southern California in May reached the staggering total of $85,643,000.

These figures are official, Collector Rex B. Goodcell said, and are based on the sale of documentary stamps during the month. January and February sales of stamps were the greatest in the history of the Internal Revenue bureau, and indicated the largest volume of real estate transfers for any two months since the Southern California revenue district was established.

PADDOCK BEATEN IN 100-METRE DASH served only to reduce the attendance.

However, regardless of what the elements might do, records were strong possibilities in the sprints, 400 metres and the 400 metre hurdles, the shot put, discus throw and the high jumps.

F. Johnson, Illinois, turned in the first record in winning his semi-final heat of the 110 metre hurdles in 14 4-5, equalling Earl Thomson's world and Olympic record at Antwerp.

Johnson made a show of his field with the exception of H. Guthrie, Ohio, who took second. This entitled Guthrie to a place in the finals.

Other heat winners: Karl Anderson, Illinois A. C., who beat Charlie Moore, intercollegiate champion, and D. Kinsey of Illinois.

Paddock Defeated

Chet Bowman of Syracuse, won the much discussed final heat of the 100 metre dash, beating such hasty young men as Charley Paddock, Jackson Scholz, Francis Hussey, Alf Leconey, Loren Murchison and Keith Lloyd, in 10 3-5, equalling Don Lippincott's Olympic record.

Finishing on Bowman's shoulder in a dead heat were Paddock and Scholz, with the school boy, Hussey, fourth and Leconey fifth. Murchison, national champion, was shut out, finishing last in a field of seven.

Summaries—

110 metre hurdles, first heat, won by Karl Anderson, Illinois A. C. Time 15 1-10; second, C. H. Moore, U. of North Carolina, 15 2-10 seconds.

Second heat—Won by J. P. Johnson, Illinois A. C., 14 8-10 seconds, equals the world's record; second, Guthrie, Ohio State, 15 seconds.

Third heat—Won by D. Kinsey, U. of Illinois, 15 2-10 seconds; second L. Dye, U. of S. C., 15 3-10.

NOTED ALIENIST TO TEST SLAYERS

Defense Summons Scientist To Lay Foundation of Murder Defense

CHICAGO, June 14.—Dr. Karl Murdock Bowman, noted psychiatrist from the Boston Psychopathic hospital, will spend two hours again today with Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, confessed slayers of Robert Franks, 13, putting them through tests which the defense will use in its attempt to prove the youthful killers are insane.

Dr. H. S. Hulbert, alienist, who aided him yesterday, will assist him again today.

These are the first of fifty experts who may be summoned, though the fathers of the accused boys have stated that their sons would be given only a simple defense.

The two brilliant university students appeared bored under the routine of hop, skip and jump ordered by the medical experts.

Dr. Bowman said he would make his report Monday to Clarence S. Darrow, chief defense counsel, and the importance attached to it may be determined by Mr. Darrow's assertion:

"That report will be the foundation of our case. We'll build up our defense from that as we build a house."

DOPE FROM DUGOUT

By JOHN B. FOSTER
Special Correspondent of The Evening News, Copyright, 1924

NEW YORK, June 14.—One of the most remarkable fielding spurts made by any infielder this year is that made by Frank Frisch, second basemae of the New York Giants. Starting June 1, he has maintained an average of better than 8½ acepted chances per game.

On June 1, he started off by fielding ten chances. The next day he made it eleven. June 3, the Giants played a double header and he picked up eleven and nine chances respectively.

Rain stepped in and prevented him from getting any more until June 5 and that day he knocked down six. There was no game on June 6 but on June 7 he grabbed eight. June 8 he got only three, his low mark of the month. But the next day he was right back with nine. And on June 10 he got ten and on the eleventh three.

When you can average better than eight accepted chances per game over a period of nearly two weeks, you are top notching and that is just what Frisch has been doing.

When Chicago fans feel right good at heart, they like to compare Grantham with Frisch. It is a pleasant pastime, but Grantham, is hardly up to the Frisch specifications yet, and he did not begin with the natural ability that Frisch possesses. Nor did he have as many discoverers as Frisch did. A small army knew all about Frisch before the Giants got him. You might line up a procession half a block long all entitled to carry a banner "I found Frisch." As a matter of fact several clubs that had Frisch located him about the same time the Giants got into the hunt, but McGraw had the best bait and it was a mighty good day for the Giants when John caught him.

Eddie Brown has rounded out an outfield for the Brooklyn team and that was one of the things Brooklyn did not have. Wheat, Brown and Griffith can hit. And Wheat and Griffith should play better ball with a player like Brown between them. The combination will give the Brooklyn pitchers high class support and Dutch Ruether will have no occasion to lament to outsiders that he can't get the right kind of backing.

Brown can go back on a ball as well as any long-legged outfielder in the game and it will take a fly swatted at the rate of a mile a minute to beat him to the fence.

The Brooklyns, though, are not through strengthening. The infield will get a little more attention one of these days. Balance that infield up and the Brooklyn club will be in the first division. Already they are much better than they looked down in Clearwater, Fla. Then they looked as if they would run a bad last for the Clearwater championship. The second baseman wasn't there. There was no shortstop unless Jimmy Johnston was on the job. Third base was like a see-saw and the outfield like a sieve. A heap has been done to make Brooklyn a better team and a change or two more should make it dangerous.

Curious Ship Carries British Army Planes

LONDON, June 14.—Britain's largest and latest aircraft carrier, the Hermes, has just been commissioned for service with the British Atlantic Fleet.

Dubbed as the most curious-looking ship in the British navy, the Hermes is claimed to be the last word in aircraft carriers. One of her unusual features is that the mast, funnel and superstructure are all built on the starboard side of the vessel, leaving a large deck space for aeroplanes to take off and alight.

She has two hangars fitted below decks accommodating twenty aeroplanes, which are raised to the flying-off deck by means of electric elevators.

GOES TEN INNINGS

The Reds required ten innings to win from the Giants, 4 to 1. Each side got a home run, the only scores until the tenth.

DICK HOPPE OUT OF RING TOURNEY

Oakland Frankie Burns Too Much for Local Lad In Hollywood Bowl

Experience won over ambition and youth last night when Dick Hoppe, Glendale scrapper, who had fought his way to almost the top rung in the elimination tournament at Hollywood arena, was defeated by Oakland Frankie Burns, veteran of the ring. Burns used a straight left jab that kept Hoppe worried most of the time, and the Oaklander excelled at infighting when he could draw Hoppe into close quarters.

Hoppe led practically all the way. The first round was even, Hoppe took the second and Burns got the last two. It was a slap-bang style of fight and kept the spectators on the edge of their seats at all times.

Hit and Fall

Bobby Corbett, from the mountains of Colorado, got a draw with Alex Maurice, who substituted for Marty Cross, in the semi-windup. Johnny Carlson went down every time Tommy Carter smacked him, which was four times in the opening stanza, so the referee stopped the fight. Other results were:

Sailor Toomey was awarded the decision over Young Nino.

Scotty Diest copped the nod over Roy Moore.

Rusty Russell beat Sammy Green.

Joe Medina defeated Young Farrell in four rounds.

The president and Hines conferred on arrangements being made to use surplus moneys in the treasury to carry out the terms of the law, until Congress appropriates funds.

Six Captains Raised To Rear-Admiral Rank

WASHINGTON, June 14.—The report of the naval selection board, approved by President Coolidge, and naming six new admirals, 22 captains and 41 commanders, was made public today by Secretary of the Navy Wilbur.

"The following six captains were selected by the board for promotion to the rank of rear-admiral: J. K. Robison, A. L. Willard, H. H. Hough, H. K. Christy, N. E. Irwin, F. J. Senn.

Strangler Lewis Wins In Match With Londos

ST. LOUIS, June 14.—Ed Strangler Lewis, heavyweight wrestling champion, retained his title here last night by defeating Jimmy Londos, Greek, two out of three falls.

Londos took the first fall with an arm hold, but was unable to fight off Lewis' headlocks in the succeeding falls, which came in forty minutes, thirty-seven seconds and ten minutes twenty-four seconds, respectively.

School Systems Show Big Growth of Glendale In Past Year

ten grammar schools and two intermediate schools, is 4724, giving a grand total of nearly 7000 children of school age in this city at the present time.

Grammar Schools

In releasing the names of the intermediate graduates, Richardson D. White, superintendent of city schools, gave out some interesting data regarding the grammar schools. He reports that the Glendale avenue intermediate will be able to accommodate the expected increase in attendance next year, but the Wilson avenue institution has carried capacity classes this year, and will either have to rent additional space or build temporary structures in order to handle the increase.

The average increase in attendance from September of one year to the next has been 23 per cent up until last year, when it jumped to 29 per cent. Part of this increase comes during the school year, however, and it is thought that the increase at the opening of school in September will be about 15 per cent. This percentage would necessitate several additional class rooms at the Wilson avenue school.

Half-Day Programs

Half-day sessions have been held in two rooms at the Grand View school throughout the past year, and superintendent White expects that it will be necessary to arrange the half-day programs at not less than five more of the grammar schools next fall.

It is hoped that some other method besides constructing temporary buildings will be found to relieve conditions at the Wilson school as they would infringe upon the playground space and would interfere seriously with the athletic program.

PATRIOTS HONOR NATION'S BANNER

Mrs. Coolidge Gives Prizes To Essay Winners at White House Park

By H. K. REYNOLDS
For International News Service.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, representing the president, and Secretary of War John W. Weeks, led the nation today in observance of Flag Day—the one hundred and forty-ninth anniversary of the birth of the Stars and Stripes.

The chief ceremonies here were held in the president's park, in the rear of the White House, where Mrs. Coolidge presented the awards to winners in the essay contest conducted by the Women's Overseas Service league, to arouse interest in the citizens' military training camps.

Prize Winners

The first prize went to Mrs. Adele Daniel of Vicksburg, Miss.; the second to Miss Luella Lancaster of Junction City, Kan., and the third to Miss Dorothy M. Beal of Fredericks Hall, Va.

Major General Hines presided over the gathering.

Secretary Weeks paid homage to the flag as "the symbol of our national identity," and urged citizens generally to support the military training camps.

Country's Assets

"We all hope the young men who attend camp this summer," he said, "will never be required to use their military attainments in campaign.

"Peace is the normal state of the nation. But this does not mean that the training they acquire will not be an asset to the nation. The nationalism and sense of civil responsibility possessed by the citizens of a country constitute that country's strongest assets—assets which are vital at all times. The maintenance of the national defense is a by-product of those assets."

An average of $49,000,000 is spent each day in this country for food stuffs.

Battle Staged When Officers Raid House

LOS ANGELES, June 14.—Armed with tear bombs scores of police here today withstood a hot pistol fire and raided a residence, where they rescued Mrs. Stella Pigney, who claimed she was being held there a prisoner by Charles Abbott, a private detective.

The raid followed a telephone message from Mrs. May McEwen of San Diego, the woman's sister, in which she said Mrs. Pigney was held captive here.

Mrs. Pigney's enraged husband led the police in their attack on the residence.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE DUST RAG

Uncle Wiggily was getting ready to hop away from his bungalow one morning to go adventuring, when he heard Nurse Jane moving around in the sitting room.

"This is the day of the week when she sweeps and moves the furniture about," said the rabbit gentleman to himself. "I'm glad I'm going out. I don't like sweeping and dusting."

The rabbit uncle was about to call good-by to Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy, when all of a sudden he heard her give a sort of squeaking sigh and she said:

"Oh, I can't do it! I simply can't, and what is going to happen I don't know."

"Goodness," whispered Uncle Wiggily to himself. "This sounds like trouble, and right in my own bungalow! Well, that's what I'm here for—to help those in trouble, and, like charity, I must begin at home."

He opened the door of the sitting room, where Nurse Jane had been sweeping, and there Mr. Longears saw his muskrat lady housekeeper sitting in a chair holding her head in her paws.

"Why, Nurse Jane! What's the matter?" asked the rabbit.

"Oh, I have such a headache!" righed Nurse Jane. "I managed to get the sweeping done, but I simply can't do the dusting. And company is coming this afternoon! The animal ladies will see the dust on the floor and furniture, and—"

"No, they will not see the dust!" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily quickly. "Excuse me for interrupting you, Nurse Jane," he went on, with a low and polite bow, "but if the animal ladies come they will not see any dust!"

"How can they help seeing it when it's all over? Look!" and Nurse Jane pointed to the streaks of gray dust on the floor and furniture. "Oh, such a lot of dust!"

"It will not be here when the animal ladies come," said the bunny, taking off his coat.

"What are you going to do?" cried Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy in surprise.

"First, I am going to carry you upstairs and put you to bed," answered the bunny, kindly but firmly. "Then I am going to sprinkle some toilet water on a handkerchief and lay it on your head to cool it and stop the ache. Then I am coming down here and use the dust rag."

"Do you mean you are going to dust?" asked the muskrat lady, incredulous like.

"That's just what I mean!" exclaimed the rabbit. And before Nurse Jane could stop him, he picked her up and gently carried her to her room. Then he put a handkerchief, wet in sweet smelling toilet water, on her aching head and she closed her eyes.

"But I can't bear to have you do the dusting, Wiggy," she said.

"Never mind about me!" laughed the bunny. "I may not be able to dust quite as clean as you would do it, but it will answer for a time. Besides, I may get an adventure out of it. Now go to sleep, so that when the animal ladies come this afternoon your headache will be gone.

Nurse Jane took a long breath and closed her eyes again. She was feeling a little better already. As for Uncle Wiggily, whistling a cheerful tune, twinkling his pink nose and feeling very brave, he went down to the sitting room and took up the dust rag. Nurse Jane had finished the sweeping.

"Come now, dust! Get out of here!" cried the bunny. "You can't stay here any longer. Out you go!" He wiped some dust from the piano, gathering the grains and fuzzy bits into the rag. Then he hopped over and shook the rag out of the window.

"Come, wind, blow the dust away!" cried the bunny. "I'm having a fine time," he shouted. He gathered more dust in a rag, wiping off a table, and again he shook the rag out of the window. All of a sudden as he did this the bunny heard a sound like:

"Ker choo! Aker foo! Ker zoo!"

"A sneeze!" whispered the rabbit to himself. "The dust flew up the nose of some one and made him sneeze! He must be hiding under the window. It must be one of the bad chaps. I'll make him sneeze again."

Gathering more dust in the cloth, once more Uncle Wiggily shook it out the window. He leaned over the edge to watch. Something moved in the bushes. Again he heard:

"Ker zoo! Ker snoo! Wushkawug!"

"Oh ho! I see you!" cried the rabbit, for he caught sight of a little tail. "I see you—Bob Cat!" Quickly gathering up some more dust in the rag, Uncle Wiggily shook it down on the bush.

"A ker choo! Oh, ker foo!" came a loud sneeze, and out from beneath the bush sprang the Bob Cat. "Ker choo! Ker choo! Ker choo!" he sneezed, harder than ever.

"Have a bit more dust!" cried the bunny. He wiped off a chair and shook the rag again.

"Oh, ga zunka!" sneezed the Bob Cat, and he sneezed so hard that he sneezed himself up in the air, and when he came down he bumped his nose and tears came into his eyes. Uncle Wiggily laughed:

"Hu! You think you're smart, don't you—ker choo! Ker snoo!" and the Bob Cat, with another sneez, ran away because his nose hurt him so. He had hidden in the bush, hoping he might jump in the window and catch the rabbit. But Uncle Wiggily fooled him with the sneezing dust.

Then the rabbit finished the cleaning and by afternoon Nurse Jane's headache was over so she could entertain the animal ladies. And they all said Mr. Longears was very brave to do the dusting as he did.

So if the traffic policeman doesn't try to ride in the baby carriage when he wants to catch a runaway auto, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the Blinkie Bug.

He shook the rag out of the window.

Time has flown so quickly
Since we, with many a fear,
Came to dear old Wilson
For knowledge and careers.
But, as we grew older,
We true Wilsonites became,
Always playing fair and square,
And now we've won the game.

Our class will soon be scattered
And far from Wilson's fold;
Still we'll ne'er forget you,
Dear old Blue and Gold.
And now that we are leaving,
A farewell toast we will give—
All hail to Wilson Avenue!
All hail! Long may she live!

CHORUS:
Farewell, our Alma Mater; Summer '24
Pledges her allegiance to Wilson Avenue.
Farewell, our Alma Mater; Summer '24
Joins in our last tribute to you—to you.

POLA NEGRI EXPLORES

Exploring is Pola Negri's hobby. The star of "Men," showing this week at Grauman's Metropolitan, says that a change is as good as a rest. Immediately after completing the picture the star took trips to various parts of California and one long journey to Mexico City.

During her sojourn in Hollywood, Miss Negri has taken advantage of every available opportunity to explore every road, mountain and canyon in Southern California and has been particularly fascinated by the wilder regions of the great outdoors which cannot be reached by the usual transportation facilities.

NEW YORK, June 14.—She's a wife in name only.

But she doesn't see why every woman is excited about her daring to be a Mrs. without a man. It's like this:

In America a Miss is as good as a male.

In Germany a Fraulein is not only as good as a Herr, but is also far from being the equal of a Frau.

So Miss, or Fraulein, Estelle Scheyer found in traveling about Europe that there was nothing for it but to call herself Mrs. or Frau.

When we went out to Madame Rayah Rubio's home in Ossining to ask her guest, Mrs. Scheyer, why "Miss" isn't good enough for her, she smiled beautifully just the way Mona Lisa always meant to when she got ready.

"Has it never happened before that it should make such excitement?" Mrs. Scheyer was amazed, but explained:

"In German hotels you would have to write 'ledig' after your name. That means 'not married.' People would ask, 'Have you a gentleman? No?' And you replied, 'No.'

'Then I wished I could put 'Mrs.' before my name. I found under German law I could. It is really not that I fear to be called 'old maid.' Since the war we do not speak of old maids. Many married women are real old maids.

"'Mrs.' brings me more dignity. I use the title to prevent—not to represent. You see?

"I cannot change the whole world, so I change myself."

Mrs. Scheyer, however, has changed herself in a way that will seem shocking, even criminal, to many ambitious women. She has given up her own career as painter and sculptor to further the careers of four men artists!

"The Blue Four" is the picturesque name of the group whose work Mrs. Scheyer will exhibit and discuss in America. The artists are Lionel Feininger, an American professor at the National School of Arts and Crafts at Weimar; Paul Klee, a German, and two Russians, Wassily Kandinsky, whose work is known to the few in this country, and Alexander von Jawlensky. She is also very enthusiastic about the unusual modern work of her friend, Madame Rubio.

Mrs. Scheyer does not believe that women have yet displayed much creative ability.

Her own ability as an artist she regards as negligible compared to the need of trumpeting the excellence of "The Blue Four." She wants them to be appreciated by this generation while they live.

"So far we women have had no Mozart. No Michel Angelo.

"Man has always been active; woman, passive. To women much has been given that men have not. Yet the true artist has the sensibilities of a woman with the man's strength to give the feeling utterance. Man not only can receive an idea passively, but he can actively put it forth again."

So a modern woman, preaching modern art, has reverted to woman's immemorial role of sponsor for men, for her husband, or her sons. Estelle Scheyer having no husband, but desiring the protection of "Mrs." has taken that title.

"When a Man's a Man," the powerful film made from Harold Bell Wright's popular novel of the same name, shows for the last times today at the United Theatre, Eagle Rock.

Few writers have held the large public that this man has. There is a quality in his books that goes to the heart and the present film successfully translates this quality to the screen.

"When a Man's a Man" tells of a man's love for a woman and of his struggle to conquer a new land and make good. It has the same broad scope as "The Winning of Barbara Worth," but is regarded as a still finer story. Hundreds of thousands who have read the book will see the film and millions who have not read the book will also see this gripping photoplay.

THE GLENDALE

Jack Hoxie in "The Man from Wyoming" concludes at the Glendale Theatre today. Starting Sunday, "The Shooting of Dan McGrew" will show for five days.

THE GATEWAY

Cecil B. DeMille's "Triumph" continues at the Gateway Theatre.

THE T. D. & L.

"Boy of Mine" continues at the T. D. & L. Theatre.

NAZIMOVA IN FILM

Wallace Beery and Claude Gillingwater have been signed for important roles in "Madonna of the Streets," Edwin Carewe's next picture. Others who have been engaged are Nazimova and Milton Sills, who will play the leading parts. "Madonna of the Streets" was adapted from the novel, "The Ragged Messenger," by W. B. Maxwell.

EXOTIC BATH SUITS

Paul Iribe, for years designer of exotic evening gowns for such famous costumiers as Poiret and Paquin of Paris, is now for the first time turning his attention to the creation of bathing suits. Twenty of them, in designs that are expected to start some new styles, are to be worn by girls on aquaplanes in Cecil B. De Mille's next Paramount production, "Feet of Clay."

Many animal-drawn plows are used in France and tractors are seldom seen in the fields.

NEW STAR APPEARS

Now it is Margaret Livingston who will blossom forth as a star. Miss Livingston's first vehicle will be called "The Follies Girl." The story is a comedy drama, and offers Miss Livingston a chance both for heavy emotional work and as a comedienne.

Bradley King wrote the scenario. The cast is now being selected and production will be commenced soon at the Thomas H. Ince studio.

WILL DIRECT 'BEN HUR'

Promising to send us such post cards from Europe as they feel certain that Will Hays would approve of, Fred Niblo and Enid Bennett, his wife, accompanied by their little daughter, Loris, and a nursemaid, will leave today for New York, whence they will sail almost at once for London, Paris and Monte Carlo.

Mr. Niblo's avowed purpose is a vacation combined with a little work shooting scenes for Norma Talmadge's next picture, which he will direct. But the rumor still persists that Mr. Niblo will direct "Ben Hur." Also Ramon Novarro is said to have already left for Europe.

LOAN BEN LYON

Ben Lyon, First National juvenile star, whose recent roles in "Potash and Perlmutter," "Painted People," and "The White Moth," won for him a host of friends among picture patrons, has been loaned to Famous Players to appear in the male lead opposite Pola Negri in "Compromise." The picture, an adaptation of Sudermann's "The Song of Songs," is being directed by Dimitri Buchowetzki. Following this part Ben will return to the First National fold to appear in pictures to be made under the supervision of Earl Hudson.

FOR INACTIVE KIDNEYS

When the kidneys are in need of a good flushing take FOLEY PILLS, a diuretic stimulant for the kidneys. They promptly and effectively flush the kidneys, increase their activity and bring pleasant relief. Landon Taylor, Dorchester, Iowa, writes: "I can truthfully say that FOLEY PILLS are the best I ever used. I had lots of trouble with my kidneys and liver; I couldn't lift anything my back was so weak. Every morning I was dizzy, could hardly walk, but now I feel fine."

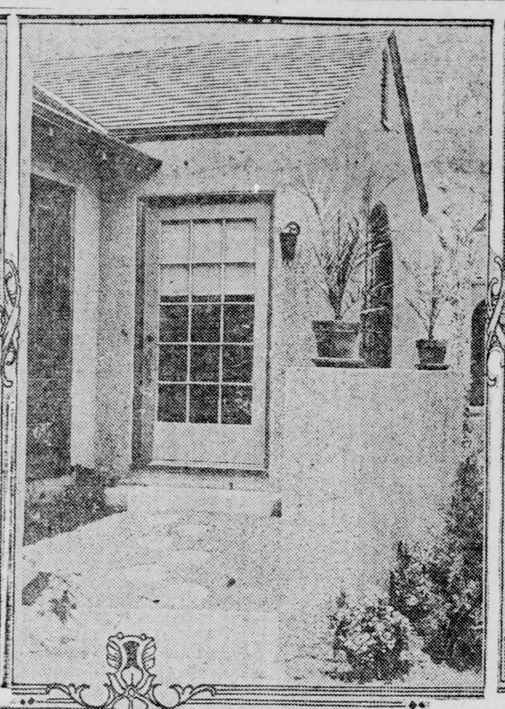
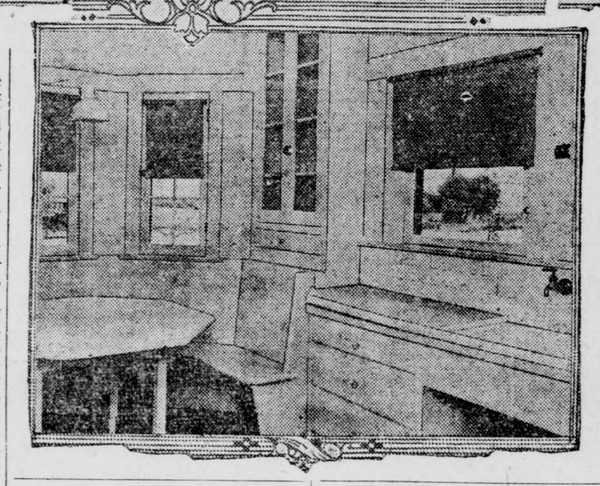
New Residences Embody Features That Add Comfort

The Angeles Mesa Land company, following its usual policy in developing its property, has erected a number of homes on its tract on Linda Vista boulevard, Pasadena, in a location that combines propinquity to Glendale and Pasadena with surroundings of majestic beauty in the heart of some of Southern California's most attractive scenery. Every detail calculated to enhance the pleasure and comfort of living has been included in the construction of these homes.





Announcement of the resumption of building activity by the Angeles Mesa Land company, evidenced by the completion of a number of new homes at the corner of Linda Vista boulevard and Lida street, Pasadena, has been greeted with much interest by homebuyers and investors, especially by those who are familiar with the work and policy of the company in developing, building up, and selling out the five hundred acre Angeles Mesa tract in the southwestern part of Los Angeles.

The same trained and experienced organization in every department of building construction that developed Angeles Mesa is building these homes in the new location; added to this great advantage is a tremendous buying power in materials, securing economy in cost of building that could be secured in no other way.

These economies are passed on to the buyer of the homes, the enormous volume of business enabling the company to ask but a minimum profit for itself.

Nor is this all. The climax of easy buying is capped by the exceedingly easy terms which this company is able to give to its patrons. "Cheaper than paying rent," is a saying which the buyers of homes from the Angeles Mesa Land company have been able to demonstrate many hundreds of times to their own satisfaction and profit.

Ideal Location

The location of these new homes, adjoining Flintridge and only one block from the Arroyo Seco, within easy reach of the business sections of both Pasadena and Glendale, is proving very attractive to home seekers; and the attraction well enhanced by the wonderful close-up view of the Sierra Madre range. Good roads and schools are features not overlooked.

The beauty and convenience of design, and the high quality of materials and construction that have given the Angeles Mesa Land company its enviable reputation are strictly conserved in the Linda Vista boulevard homes, while the pleasing variety in architecture gives added charm.

The houses are of stucco construction, with hardwood floors throughout, real fireplace, gas floor heater, tile bath, shower bath, tile sink, linoleum-floored kitchen with breakfast nook, electric convenience outlets, automatic water heater, cement porch, garage with cement driveway, lawn, shrubs and flowers, and other modern features.

Commission Revokes L A. Realtor's License

The permanent revocation of the license under which Vincent H. Cox, real estate broker, operated was ordered recently by State Real Estate Commissioner Edwin T. Keiser after a thorough investigation of the charges preferred against the former broker by Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Coover.

In presenting the case the complainants maintained that the broker had accepted $1000 as payment on some property for which the title was not clear, and that he knew at the time that such was the case.

Congressmen Address Californian Realtors

Eight California congressmen addressed the 140 California delegates to the national convention of realtors at Washington, D. C. at breakfast held the day after the special train arrived. President Henry P. Barbour of the California Real Estate Association presided and the following law-makers responded briefly: Congressmen Henry E. Barbour, Fresno; John D. Fredericks, Los Angeles; Walter F. Lineberger, Long Beach; Arthur M. Free, San Jose; E. McLafferty, Oakland; Phil Swing, San Diego; John E. Raker, Modoc; and Clarence F. Lea, Santa Rosa.

FIGHT FALSE PUBLICITY ON STATE

Truth About Southland Will Be Broadcast Through Press of State

A campaign launched in the San Fernando valley against false propaganda aimed at Southern California in eastern and northern states promises to be the greatest single factor in the growth of the Southland during the coming months.

The "Write the truth about Southern California" drive, started by the Ventura Boulevard Chamber of Commerce, has been taken up by the press in and around Los Angeles, and, as a result of the effort, thousands of loyal Southern Californians are spreading the truth about this section — that the Southland is enjoying real prosperity — and that millions of dollars' worth of public and private development projects are under way or will be undertaken during the coming weeks.

Building Figures

From data compiled by the Ventura Boulevard Chamber of Commerce, it has been found that, while 84,000 lots were placed on the market during 1923, 125,000 buildings were erected. In other words, a building was put up for every lot subdivided and 41,000 buildings erected to cut down the already existing number of vacant pieces of property.

Public and private improvement projects to be undertaken during 1924, and which are definitely in sight, total more than $400,000,000. They include:

Public improvements heretofore listed by city and county	$135,400,000
School sites and buildings (election June 3)..	35,640,000
Building permits, estimated	200,000,000
Announced extensions by public utility corp'ns....	47,000,000
Veterans' hospital	2,000,000
School buildings, outside of city	1,000,000
Subdivision improvements by private capital	2,000,000
Total	$423,040,000

Laguna Beach Realtor Starts On Long Jaunt

E. E. Jahraus, of Laguna Beach, a charter member of the California Real Estate association, vice-president of the Santa Ana Realty board, and ex-president of the Orange County Associated Chambers of Commerce, left on June 10 for Australia and the South Sea Islands for a six months' trip. Mr. Jahraus was accompanied by his daughter, Miss Pauline Jahraus.

Northwest Realtors Will Meet In August

Advices received at the headquarters of the California Real Estate association from the Northwest Real Estate association fix the date of the eighth annual convention of that association as August 28, 29, and 30. An invitation to attend is extended to all California brokers.

That fireflies in the Malay Peninsula form in armies and flash messages in unison to each other, the illumination being so strong that branches of trees could be seen distinctly on a dark night, has been reported from a reliable source.

Predicts Good Season For Imperial Valley

Ray Edgar, president of the El Centro Realty board, in a statement made to the California Real Estate association, predicts that this will be the best season in its history for the Imperial valley. More cantaloupe acreage than ever before, with an excellent weather, has put the probable output of the valley at 15,000 carloads. The price will be as high, if not higher, than last year.

Several large property deals are reported in Imperial valley. One farmer from New Jersey visiting the valley is reported to have purchased 360 acres which he will immediately plant to grapes.

Italian Prince Sees Big California Farms

Prince Celasio Caetani, Italian ambassador to the United States, spent a day as the guest of the California Real Estate association on a tour of inspection of the Holland Land company's big tract south of Clarksburg. The modern farming equipment and ditching machinery particularly interested the prince, who is the owner of some 200,000 acres of land in Italy and who marveled at the large scale on which the crops were planted and harvested in California.

PLAN TO COMBAT FALSE PUBLICITY

Ventura Boulevard C. of C. In Campaign to Offset Fake Propaganda taking its campaign, collected a series of stories published outside, with an apparent motive of jealousy.

False Propaganda

One paper declared that "Los Angeles is being depopulated; Hollywood lots are selling for $100 each."

Another wrote: "Twice as many people are leaving Los Angeles as are arriving. Hollywood is a town where no decent woman can appear on the street unprotected after 8 p. m. Crowds stand at every corner with their hands in their pockets and a dejected look upon their faces wondering where the next meal is coming from."

Secretary Joseph Tanner of the Ventura Boulevard Civic organization, in commenting upon the campaign, said: "This false propaganda, ridiculous as it may sound, has reached such proportions that Southern Californians must make some definite move to squelch such damaging statements about our glorious Southland. There is no better way than by a vast personal contact with other parts of the country, such as a letter writing campaign."

BETH MORRISH IS WINNER IN PRIZE

Wilson School Pupil Given Bronze Medal In State Essay Contest

Among the pupils who are establishing exceptional records at the Wilson intermediate school, Beth Jewell Morrish, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley J. Morrish of 200 North Louise street, is making an unusual record along literary lines. In recognition of her ability she has been awarded the third prize in the state essay contest for her essay on "What I Should Do to Prevent Accidents," and received a bronze medal and $5 in cash.

Miss Morrish has not learned of her recognized honors, inasmuch as she is en route with her father to their former home in Fargo, N. D. They left here last Sunday for an extended visit with relatives and friends. They will visit many points of interest en route to Fargo.

Won Last Year

Last year she won the silver medal and $10 in cash for the best essay on "Making the Highway Safe." Mrs. Carrie Noble, principal of the school, is very proud of the pupil who is making such a splendid record for herself and her school.

Miss Morrish is also a talented reader and pupil of the Emerson School of Self-Expression. She has appeared before Glendale audiences on many occasions and has won distinction for herself for her ability as a reader and impersonator.

for one phase of the housing shortage and an economical means of "owning a home of your own," the need for thoroughly investigating requirements of a city before building more business buildings, the need for greater participation by the city business man in finding a solution for the serious problems confronting the farmer, co-operating with the United States department of commerce in industrial development of the country, and the evolving of higher standards of practice in all real estate dealings, were among the high spots of the progressive programs of activity reported by the chairman of various divisional organizations of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, in concluding its seventeenth annual convention.

Grand Army Veterans In Regular Meeting

On account of a large number of members of the W. R. C. and G. A. R. in attendance at the convention now in session in San Diego, the meetin gheld Friday at the G. A. R. hall on South Glendale avenue was not very well attended.

Th regular routine of business was transacted during the morning hours by the members of N. P. Banks post, G. A. R., followed by the W. R. C. meeting in the afternoon.

In the absence of the W. R. C. president, Mrs. Hary Bennett, the senior vice-president, Mrs. Hettie Lawson presided over the meeting. At this time plans were inaugurated for a splendid program to be presented at the next all-day meeting, Friday, June 27. It is expected the delegates will also give their reports of the convention at this time.

Uses Prayer In Task Of Healing Stricken

Dr. Lillian Yeomans, a university woman and holder of an M. D. degree, is to preach at the morning and night services Sunday at Bethel church, 633 East Colorado street.

It is interesting to learn that Dr. Yeomans is a daughter of a surgeon who served in the Civil war. She is no longer practicing medicine, but depends on prayer and faith to heal the sick. At the service Sunday night the sick will be prayed for and anointed according to James 5:14.

Teacher Is Hostess To Pupils, Parents

Mrs. Flora Hammill Fitzpatrick, special teacher for children who are unable to attend the regular public schools, was hostess Friday afternoon at a particularly enjoyable affair at her home, 468 West Elk street, when she entertained about twenty-five pupils and their mothers at an informal social affair. She was assisted in entertaining by her assistant teacher, Mrs. Thelma A. McK. McIntyre.

Last year the Rotary club sponsored a program and bazaar given by the home pupils for funds to purchase library books for their use. A substantial sum was realized and over 200 volumes have been purchased. At the affair Friday afternoon these books were displayed.

An enjoyable impromptu program was presented by the pupils and later refreshments were served by Mrs. Fitzpatrick and Mrs. McIntyre.

Revenue Collector to Issue Refund Checks

Taxpayers who paid their taxes in full on 1923 income and are entitled to refunds of 25 per cent, will not be required to file claims in order to obtain the return of the overpayments, Collector of Internal Revenue Rex B. Goodcell announced.

Lists of the full-paid accounts of individual taxpayers are being prepared and will be submitted to the Washington bureau for approval. When these lists are returned to Los Angeles, Collector Goodcell will issue checks and forward them to taxpayers.

Collector Goodcell said it would not be necessary for taxpayers to take any action whatever to obtain the 25 per cent refund. In fact correspondence from taxpayers relative to the refunds would probably serve to slow down the work of listing the items and sending the schedule to Washington for approval, in order that the checks may be drawn, the Collector added. The only delay that may arise in sending out checks for the refunds will be due to the failure of Congress to make funds for the purpose immediately available.

Collector Goodcell called attention to the fact that there appeared to be a general misunderstanding as to the amount of income tax imposed on corporations by the Revenue Act of 1924. The new bill fixes the income tax on corporations at 12½ per cent, which is the same rate of tax applicable for the taxable year 1923. Corporations, therefore, are not permitted to take as a credit any reduction in tax for the payment due June 15, or any subsequent installment date. The flat reduction of 25 per cent on the tax on 1923 income is limtied to individuals and fiduciaries who filed on Forms 1040 and 1040A.

NEW SIX-STORY STRUCTURE OPENS TODAY!

INTERESTING HISTORY OF BANK IS TOLD IN BRIEF

Outline Recalls 'Pioneer' Days In Glendale And March of Progress Shown By Facts Relating to City and Institution.

THE Bank which opened the doors of its new home in the handsome new six-story Glendale Security Building today, cannot look back to the time when the thirteen original families living in the valley met together, Pilgrim like, in the early eighties and celebrated Thanksgiving together.

But it can look back to the time when the corner on which it now stands could have been purchased for less than $1000.

Neither can the bank look back to the days when a little narrow-gauged dummy-engine line was Glendale's only connecting link with the outside world. But it can look back to the days when its founder, Leslie C. Brand, had, after a long struggle, been able to get the present Pacific Electric Railroad built out from Los Angeles The "P. E." had been running but a little over a year when Mr. Brand as the principal stockholder and president, brought the First National, now the Glendale Branch of the Security Trust and Savings Bank, into being.

The bank was not here when sheep and cattle raising was the principal industry, but It was here when the meeting of the berry growers' association was the chief item of news in the weekly Glendale News. The bank's first president was not located in the valley when the old Glendale Hotel was built for $60,000, but Mr. Brand had established the bank when he bought the old building by paying off the plumbers' lien on it.

The bank came into being in the historic year of 1905 when Glendale, along with the rest of Southern California, had finally outlived the legacy of the disastrous break of the "boom of the eighties," and with the Pacific Electric connection was beginning once more to get into step with the world. Glendale has three or four significant dates in its history. One was 1798 when the King of Spain signed the patent which gave Rancho San Rafael to Don Jose Maria Verdugo. Another was 1870 when the great Rancho was finally partitioned between 28 different American and Spanish owners. A third was 1883 when the name Glendale was chosen by the 13 families who celebrated Thanksgiving together. A fourth was 1887 when Captain C. E. Thom and Judge Erskine M. Ross with others laid out the townsite of Glendale.

The young town began to reap its first fruits of the coming of the Pacific Electric in 1905. Then came the first brick building in the community. It was built by Mr. Brand on Brand Boulevard just north of Broadway, and just as the bank moves today in the first six-story building to be erected on historic old Rancho San Rafael, so did it then take quarters in the first brick building. Next door south of this building stood the Pacific Electric station, on the very site, in fact, of the present Glendale Security Building. Across Broadway from the station was the Glendale High School, whose $10,000 frame building had been built there in 1902 after its two and a half acre site had been purchased by public subscription for $750. There was no other building on its side of the street for two blocks. Directly across Brand Boulevard from the bank the block was absolutely vacant except for a residence. The Glendale Country Club built north of the bank some time after the latter had started. The business center was at the corner of Glendale Boulevard and Wilson Street.

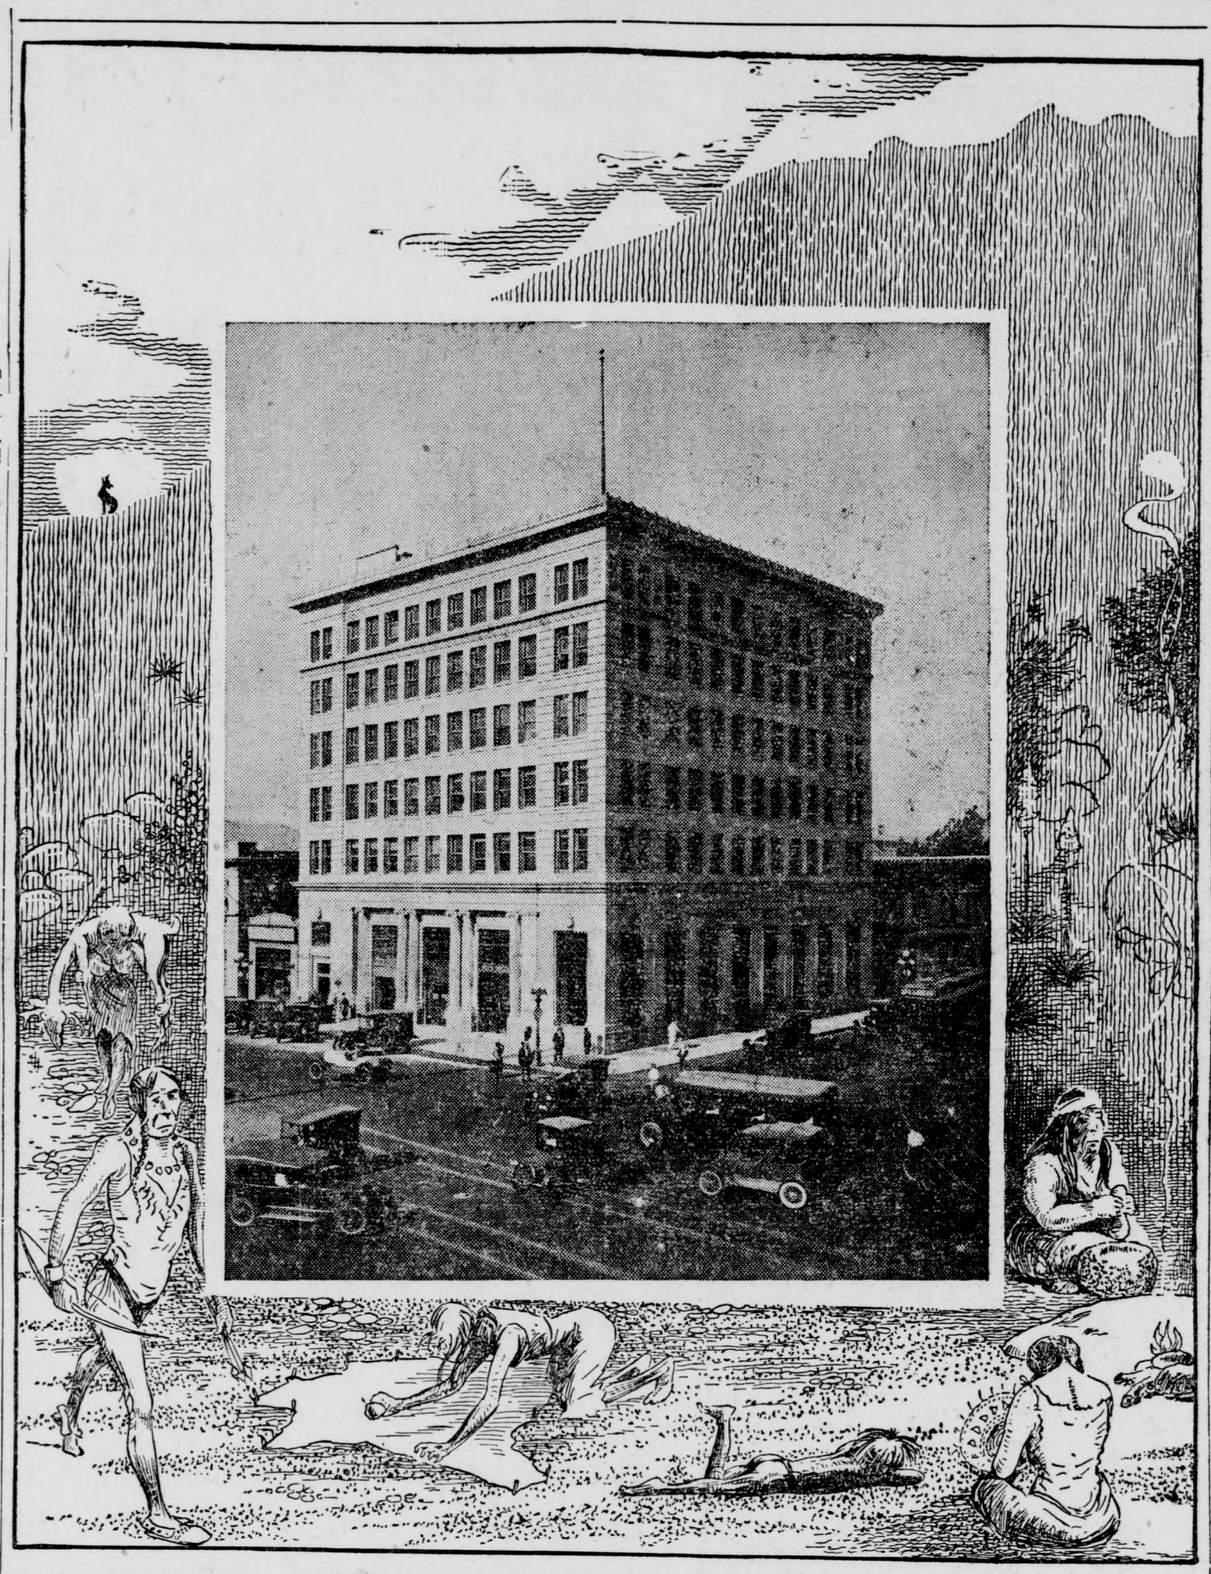
When the bank came, Glendale was not even incorporated as a city. Its name was not to be found in the government census. After the bank had been in existence five years the census gave the community a population of 2,757. The Glendale News reported on January 28, 1908, that there were 770 houses in town.

Associated with Mr. Brand in founding the bank were Herman W. Hellman, W. S. Halliday, Dan Campbell and D. Griswold, who acted as directors. The cashier was E. V. Williams. Among the other stockholders were D. McNiven, A. Engelhardt, A. W. Collins, George U. Moyse, P. S. McNutt, Fannie S. McNutt, George T. Dutton and J. A. Logan.

In 1909, W. W. Lee, M. P. Harrison and Ed M. Lee purchased a controlling interest in the bank. Mr. Griswold and Mr. Halliday remained for a time as directors, but were later succeeded by E. U. Emery and George T. Paine. The bank's statement on December 31, 1909, showed combined assets of $231,473.37.

In 1913 came Glendale's first three-story building, and as the bank had lost no time in occupying the first brick building in town, it now, as promptly, took quarters in the new three story structure. This building, located at the southeast corner of Brand Boulevard and Broadway, was occupied by the bank up to noon today. By 1913 the business center had been firmly and definitely settled at the Brand-Broadway intersection, near where the bank had pioneered in 1905. Today the magnificent six-story Glendale Security Building seals that corner as the center perhaps for all time to come. The Glendale Branch of the Security Trust and Savings Bank thus returns today in its permanent and self-owned home to within 25 feet of the spot where it opened in leased quarters as the First National Bank of Glendale in 1905. The bank's statement of December 31, 1913, showed its assets to be $453,495.04, or almost double what they were in 1909.

For the next six years the bank grew three times faster than it had the previous eight. The statement of December 31, 1919, showed assets of $1,274,133.84. It was during August of that year that R. F. Kitterman, C. C. Cooper, and W. C. Anderson bought the controlling interest in the institution, and of these three Mr. Kitterman remains the active head today, with the privilege of acting as chief host to the thousands who are inspecting the new banking home in the Glendale Security Building today. Mr. Anderson sold his interest to Messrs. Kitterman and Cooper but a short while after entering the institution. Early in 1922, Mr. Kitterman purchased Mr. Cooper's interest, and shortly after headed the movement which led to the bank's merger with the Security Trust and Savings Bank. By that time the assets had mounted to $2,266,020.60. The great growth of the community is mirrored in this great increase in three years' time.



BEHOLD THE "SKYSCRAPER" ON THE FIRST OF THE RANCHOS

A COMMUNITY EVENT!

That is what Glendale is making of its celebration of the completion and formal opening of its first "skyscraper" today Thousands of pleased and proud people are wending their way through the bronze portals of the Glendale Security Building. The elegant, spacious, marble-finished quarters of the Glendale Branch of the Security Trust and Savings Bank are being inspected throughout by the approving multitude. The roof is being visited for a view of the city. The five floors of offices are being toured. Orchestras are playing, refreshments are being served, pictures are being admired, friends are greeting friends. Altogether it is a most happy occasion!

As a fitting souvenir of this significant day in the life of the community, the Security Bank is giving to all its guests an attractive, highly illustrated booklet, "First of the Ranchos, the Story of Glendale." As its title indicates, the souvenir constitutes a history of "The fastest growing city in America," from the time when it served as good pasture land for the herds of Don Jose Maria Verdugo, down to the present.

Rancho San Rafael was the first land grant given by the King of Spain in California, and of the princely domain of 36,000 acres, what is now Glendale, was most favored by Don Jose and his children. Otherwise they would not have built four of their five adobes within the present city limits. Here the Verdugos lived at peace with themselves and their neighbors, the Indians.

And now, in the center of this great Rancho, doubtless in a region where the Serranos ground their maize, killed their deer and built their last council fires, has arisen a great, white, steel American office building with electric elevators and marble banking room. As old Governor Pio Pico said in 1846, "what these astonishing people (the gringos) will next undertake I cannot say, but on whatever enterprise they embark, they will be sure to be successful."

Mexico's last Governor was right.

And the transformation is now complete!

FINE BUILDING REFLECTS PROGRESS OF COMMUNITY

Glendale's First 'Skyscraper' Arises As Monument To Those Who Have Full Faith In Continued Prosperity Here.

AMERICA'S fastest growing city visibly increased the evidence of its amazing development today when it formally opened to permanent occupation its first sky-line business building and its first banking room of metropolitan proportions.

The building was the beautiful six-story Glendale Security Building which has been under construction now for more than a year at the northeast corner of Brand Boulevard and Broadway. The banking room was the new quarters of the Glendale Branch of the Security Trust and Savings Bank, constituting the entire first floor and basement of Glendale's first "skyscraper."

It was such an event as will live long in Glendale's history. The officers and employees of the big bank were almost overwhelmed with compliments over the beauty of their new business home. And yet, appreciative as beauty-loving Glendale was of the handsome and spacious new banking room, it reserved its most lavish expressions of praise to when it reached the roof of the big building. There spread before it in all its red-tiled and green foliaged beauty was the lovely vista of ten thousand homes and lawns making up the famous community of Glendale and surrounding sister communities of Eagle Rock, Burbank and the great San Fernando Valley beyond. Glendale, the aesthetic, debated which was the more valuable, the contents of the bank's vaults in the basement or the heavenly view from the roof.

Italian Renaissance is the classification of the architecture of the Glendale Security Building, expressive at once of the grace and charm of the community, and of the dignity, the worth and the solidity of a great and powerful banking institution. The building is absolutely fireproof, being of reinforced steel and concrete, and combines all of the latest ideas both as to construction and finish. Its dimensions make its ground area nearly a perfect square, having a frontage of 86 feet on Brand Boulevard and 89 feet on Broadway. There are five floors above the bank given over entirely to offices, which total 115 in all.

The exterior is most pleasing. It is finished in terra cotta of a light palscrome texture and a light matt finish, the product of Tropico Potteries, Inc. The entrance doors are of a highly decorative bronze.

Each floor above the first has 22 offices, all of which are large, well ventilated, and from their windows present the matchless view spoken of Their interior finish is mahogany. Each room has compressed air and gas connections and electric floor plugs.

All floors are served with two Otis electric elevators. The corridors are floored with pink Tennessee marble and terrazo, and are wainscoted up to four feet in a handsome gray marble from the same state. The stairways have marble stepping and bronze and mahogany railings.

Except for the entrance elevator lobby, which is handsomely finished in Botticino marble, the entire first floor is given over to the Glendale Branch of the Security Trust and Savings Bank, offering one of the most commodious and pleasing banking rooms in Los Angeles county. Many who are familiar with the architecture of the forty different branches of the Security Bank believe that the Glendale room is the handsomest of any in the entire system. The Security has been partial to mahogany in its other branches, but the departure which it has made in the Glendale structure has brought a most pleasing room in which to conduct business. Another innovation has been the installation of an indirect lighting system with fixtures of novel beauty.

There are a total of eighteen tellers' windows and they are finished in the Botticino marble and bronze. They present a most modern appearance. The lobby floor is of marble, as are also the stairs to the safe deposit department in the basement and to the mezzanine floor. There are two double door entrances to the banking lobby from the Brand Boulevard side and one from the Broadway side, in addition to an entrance from the elevator lobby.

A grand marble stairway leads down into the basement almost opposite the latter entrance, and here are to be found the safe deposit and the bank's money and book vaults. These various vaults occupy about three-fourths of the entire floor space of the basement and are all burglar, fire and earthquake proof, embodying all of the latest ideas in vault construction.

The floor, walls and roof of the vaults are constructed of heavy concrete in which are imbedded four layers of steel bars. In addition the vaults are lined with steel and provided with burglar-proof doors, guarded by high grilles, heavy bolts and triple-time locks.

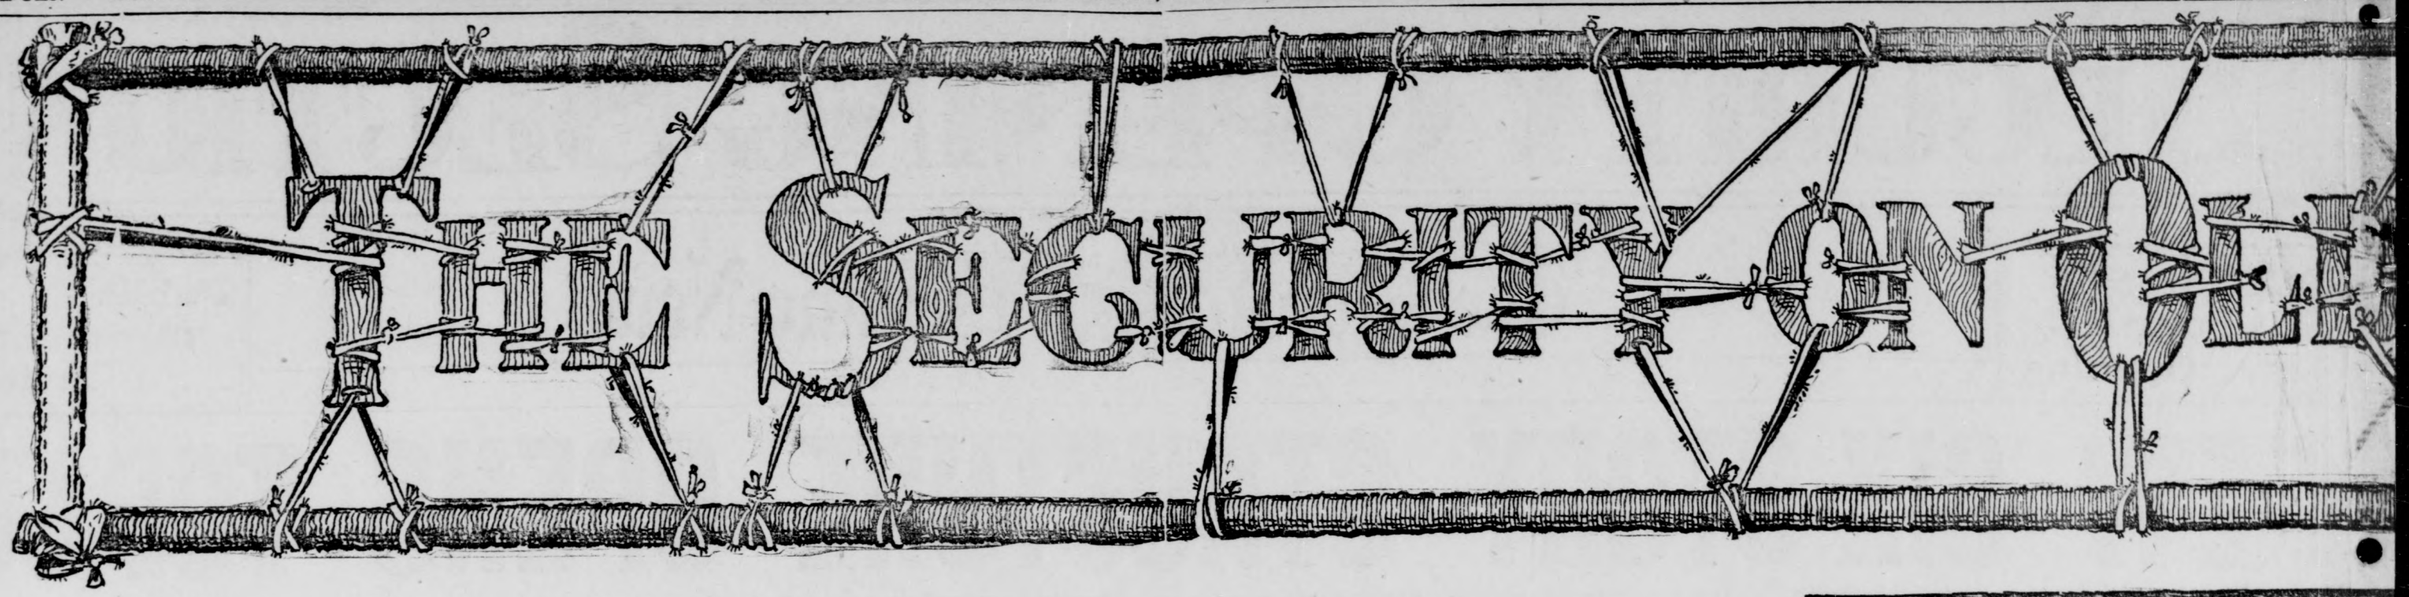
The safe deposit vaults are among the most commodious and best appointed in Southern California. They will contain a total of 3200 boxes at the start, but will have a total capacity of 5200 boxes arranged in many varying sizes. Before the boxes were purchased the Security Trust and Savings Bank made a careful investigation of all those on the market and selected the safest boxes that are made at the present time. The changeable key lock is the feature that makes these boxes unique and as safe to the customer as it is humanly possible to make anything. The keys are all unnumbered, so that if one is lost it would be valueless to whoever found it. A key selected at random from those furnished will make its own combination with any box and once made no other key or master key can unlock it.

Exceptionally large booths, nine in number, handsomely finished in mahogany, are conveniently located near the vault for the customers' use. One of these is large enough to accommodate a committee or board of directors.

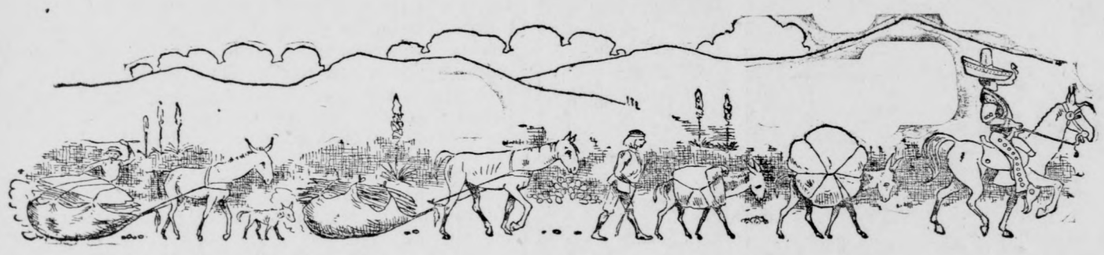
Both the banking and vault rooms are equipped with the most modern system of heating and ventilating. The fresh air supply is drawn from the roof to the basement, where it is cleaned and washed in an air washer and then diffused throughout the rooms served. The foul air is drawn out by an equally efficient method.

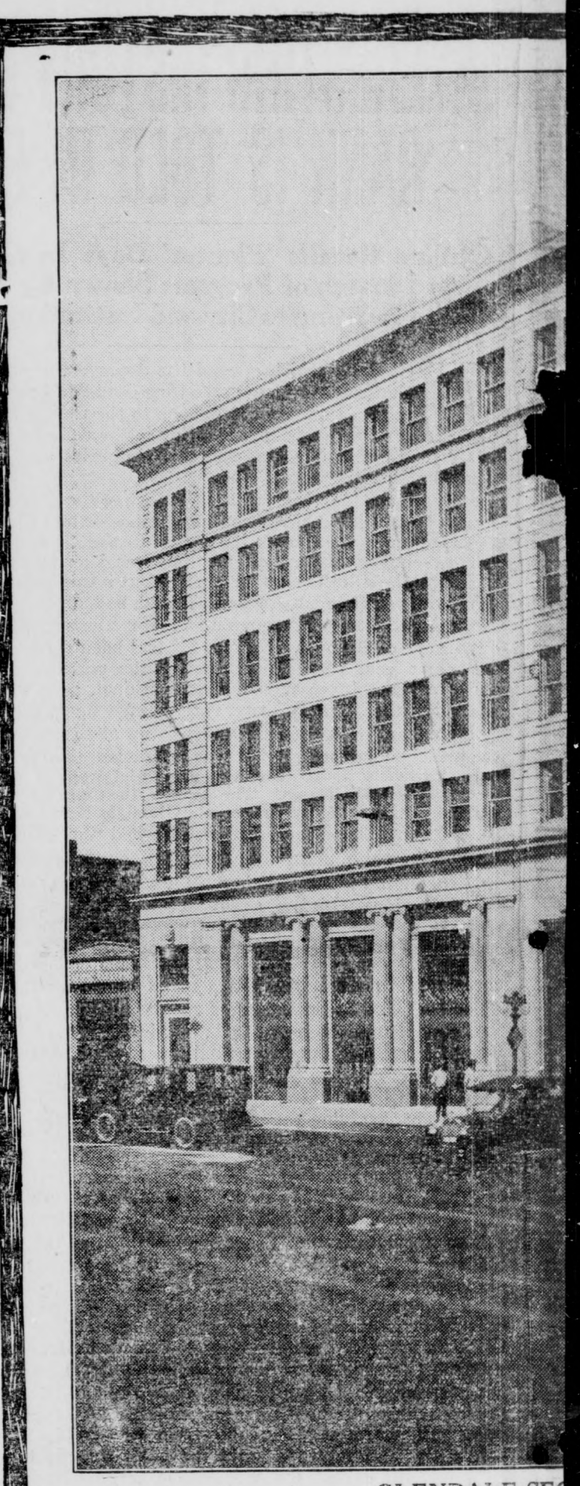
The banking room itself presents the new note in bank decoration. Banks for the most part are no longer highly elaborate and ornate in their finishings, but instead are attractive in their pleasing simplicity and dignity. The whole atmosphere of the room which is being formally opened today is expressive of the substantial, conservative and yet forward-looking character of a bank that, first as the First National Bank and now the Glendale Branch of the Security Trust and Savings Bank, has given 19 years of constructive service to Glendale from or near the corner of Brand Boulevard and Broadway.

Alfred F. Priest of Glendale is the architect of Glendale's first monumental business block. He looks upon the structure as his masterpiece and his greatest addition to the community in which he makes his home.



EAGLE ROCK SECURITY BUILDING





GLENDALE SEC

THE FIRST GREAT RANCHO

Long before Napoleon had emerged from his native Corsica and only three years after Cornwallis had surrendered to Washington, the King of Spain made his first land grant in California. Its name was Rancho San Rafael. Few tracts subsequently granted by the Spanish monarch were larger and none were richer.

Out from the very heart of the 36,000 acre expanse of this great domain has sprung Glendale. From the "First of the Ranchos" has come the first city in percentage of growth in all America. Where yesterday grazed the Verdugan herds or blossomed the smiling orchards of the first of the Anglo-Saxons, have today arisen ten thousand homes, business structures, churches, schools and clubhouses. These make up the sister communities of Greater Highland Park, Eagle Rock and Burbank as well as Glendale. All are a part of old Rancho San Rafael. Perhaps no communities anywhere in the country contain a higher percentage of home-owners. Certainly none could be more concerned with the things that stir the heart and make life worth living. As John Steven McGroarty has said, printer's type and picture engravings, eloquent though they be, are wholly futile to express their beauty and their wonder. Snuggled between the Green Verdugo Hills and the great lomas back of Los Angeles, they were chosen by Nature itself to become prosperous and beautiful cities. "The First of the Ranchos" has attracted to itself uncommon cities and an uncommon citizenship.

And yet there is a greater destiny ahead!

THE FIRST GREAT BANK

And now out of the very heart of the "fastest growing city in America" has sprung a great office and bank building, expressive at once of the charm and grace of the Latins who came first to Rancho San Rafael and of the enterprise, strength and solidity of the Anglo-Saxons who followed and transformed the land. Glendale deserves such a building.

Occupying the ground floor and basement of this artistic steel and concrete structure and welcoming the public to its new "home" today, is a Branch of one of America's outstanding Banks. Outside of New York City there are only six banks in the United States larger than the Security Trust and Savings Bank. No bank west of Chicago, confining its operations to one community such as the County of Los Angeles, is larger.

The "First City in Growth" can now say that it has a business building and a metropolitan bank of a size and capacity fully in keeping with its growth and importance. The "First of the Ranchos" can say as much and more; for in each of its important communities outside of Glendale, the outstanding business structure and banking room is that built or owned by a Branch of the Security Bank. The Eagle Rock, Highland Park, Burbank and Glendale Security Branches are bringing to important centers of an historic domain, banking facilities and resources of the number and size necessary to insure a community's future.

Cities of real greatness are building up on old Rancho San Rafael. Growing with these cities and upholding their hands in the work that achieves a destiny, is one of the really great Banks of the country.

Public Stenographer Recalls Days When City Held Few Big Buildings

Miss Sara Pollard, the public stenographer who is moving her office to the fifth floor of the new Security building, recalls something of the changes she has seen since she first began doing public work here some twelve years ago, when she had a small desk in the hardware store of D. L. Gregg.

"At that time the Cole & Damerell-Rudy block was just built and we were all justly proud of it, as we are of the six-story building across the street today; the old First National bank occupied one small room and was the only one in this part of town; the rustic Pacific Electric depot stood on the site of the new building, and small boys threw ripe olives at each other from the old trees where the Central building now stands."

In those days the wisdom of an office for public stenography was doubtful, but Miss Pollard has always come back after trying other fields for a limited time, until now her dreams are coming true—of a well equipped office in a modern building with elevators, janitor "'n'everything."

So great has been the influx of factory workers into Hawaii that the secretary of the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce has sent out warnings to the effect that the oversupply of labor is becoming serious and that the immigration should be stopped.

CROWDS THRONG TO JUNE FIEST.

Art Association's Program At School Grounds Is Striking Success

"Raggedy Ann and Raggedy Andy" dance given by Eleanor Marek and Elizabeth Hoffman.

The appearance of the mysterious "June bug," the queen of the carnival, was previously announced as the big event of the evening, and when the big bug appeared, from it stepped beautiful Julia Pelley, one of Miss Keller's most talented pupils. In a lovely orange and black costume she gave an oriental dance.

Other attractions at the fiesta were the "pedigreed" hot dog stand, conducted by J. F. Armstrong and George Bradshaw; the "Jack Horner Pie" in charge of Mrs. Harry S. Robinson and Mrs. Fulton Buntain, assisted by Misses Dorothy Crook and Leonore Rose; and the big dragon.

TOUCH OF COLOR

NEW YORK, June 14.—Today a handkerchief is a mere wisp of brilliance. Of chiffon in dazzling green, orange, purple or flaming red, elaborately embroidered, it blazes out from a coat or blouse pocket with such an air of splendor that often it is the only touch of color needed on an otherwise somber costume.

ON DANCE FROCKS

NEW YORK, June 14.—It is worth noting that passementerie is lavishly used on certain of the newest summer dance frocks. One of these, in pale blue chiffon, has a wide band of passementerie around the modestly oval neck, while four very large flower motifs are posed on the skirt.

Prices of wooden toys have increased approximately 100 per cent in the last ten years because of the scarcity of wood and mounting labor costs.

Hand in Hand

In every community where achievement is made, moves the procession of bankers and realtors. Each is essential to the other—it required the imagination and the capacity of a realtor to visualize the old "Rancho San Rafael" as the center of a city, teeming with life and business—it required his efforts to sell the idea—but it required the banker to make it a reality.

It is then with this thought in mind "that bankers and realtors" are community builders, and that we as realtors extend our sincere felicitations to the Security Trust & Savings Bank, upon the achievement of their new home.

To us it speaks volumes for the confidence which this institution has in the future of this city. It is an unqualified indorsement of our plans for future growth and development, not only from an industrial standpoint but from a civic standpoint as well.

Therefore, once again, we say—"Here's our best."

POINTS PATHWAY TO FORGIVENESS

Elder R. W. Parmele Says Daily Surrender to God Is Required

At the Seventh-day Adventist church this morning, Elder R. W. Parmele, the pastor, preached from the words of the Apostle Paul, "As ye have received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk ye in him." He referred at some length to his sermon of the week before in which he showed that when we comply with the conditions, God would disgrace his throne and spoil his name, bringing a reproach upon it, if he did not forgive our sins. "The conditions, too, are simple: 'If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins.'

"Today," said the speaker, "we wish to study how we may retain that blessed experience. My text clearly shows that we are to retain it in the same way that we obtain it—by faith. In Romans 6:11, the Apostle Paul tells us to "Reckon yourselves to be dead indeed unto sin." That is all that we can do, and if we will furnish the reckoning, God will furnish the fact. Nothing grows of itself, but growth is a common thing, notwithstanding. 'God clothes the grass of the field,' but the grass does not have to worry about what kind of dress it is to wear. It submits, and God clothes it. So with us, we cannot clothe ourselves with righteousness, but we can submit, while we are covered with the righteousness of Christ.

Daily Process

"We may know that we are forgiven, but growth in grace is a daily process. So each morning our first waking thought should be to surrender ourselves to God for that day. It is not simply at the beginning and end that we are to have the presence of Christ, but we are to have it all the way along the journey. And therein lies the blessedness of Christian living. One day at a time, 'And lo I am with you always,' said Christ, 'even unto the end of the world.'"

At the close of the sermon, Elder Parmele announced that he would speak on Sunday night at 7:30 on "The Devil's Ancient History."

CHURCHES UNITE TO HONOR PUPILS

Graduating Class to Attend Community Services In La Crescenta

LA CRESCENTA, June 14.—The La Crescenta Community church will hold special services for the graduating class of the La Crescenta school on Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

This will be a community service in the strictest sense of the word as the Montrose Methodist church congregation will be present to take part in the service. Rev. Durr of Montrose will assist Rev. Kelso in conducting the service.

Parents and teachers are cordially invited to attend the first church services held in the valley for an eighth grade graduating class.

Special music for the occasion is to be provided by Mrs. Imogene Smith of Highway highlands.

The Sunday school services will be conducted at the regular hour, 10 a. m., in the church on West Montrose avenue in La Crescenta.

Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Thomas are entertaining as their house guest over the week-end Colin Campbell Cooper, the noted art critic. Mr. Campbell has been invited to act as one of the judges who will award the prizes at the exhibition now being held at the Biltmore art gallery of the famous western painters.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Hauber and daughter, Miss Marguerite Hauber, are motoring down to Laguna Beach to spend the week end. After the University of Southern California closes, Miss Hauber, who is one of the faculty, will go north to Seattle for the summer.

A. F. Hopkins is on the sick list at his home on Hermosa avenue in Montrose.

Lecture Course Will Be Held At Montrose

MONTROSE, June 14.—Is the Bible out of date? This is to be the opening topic in the lecture course to be conducted in the large tent recently erected on the corner of Ocean View and Honolulu avenues. The course will open June 15 and will be free to all.

These lectures, conducted by Messrs Brass and Shaffer, will continue through the week with the exception of Saturday. Sunday will be the opening night, when Miss Hamilton and a large orchestra will assist in entertaining the audience.

Occupies Residence At Sparr Heights

MONTROSE, June 14.—Dr. Lucien Turner has moved into her new Sparr Heights home, where she expects to make her permanent residence. Dr. Turner will keep her Montrose offices, only having given up her Glendale offices on moving here.

BIDS ARE ASKED ON STREET WORK

Awards of Contracts to Be Made at Next Meeting of City Trustees

BURBANK, June 14.—As no protests have been heard on the Fourth street assessment, bids will be called for the work on June 24. At the last meeting of the City Trustees, bids were opened for the paving of Lamer, Lincoln, Cordova and Pioneer and Clark streets but no action was taken on the bids, all being turned over to the city engineer for checking. The bids were very close and the award will be made at the next meeting of the Trustees.

A petition for the grading and paving of Pass avenue from Magnolia boulevard to Clark street was taken up, the concrete to run from curb to curb, six inches in thickness. The petition was granted and the city engineer instructed to bring in the necessary data for the proceedings.

The Trustees approved of street contract bonds for the improvement of Providencia avenue, First street, Santa Anita avenue and Alameda avenue.

Sell Burbank Home

Mr. and Mrs. Swift of 337 Magnolia avenue have sold their home to Mr. and Mrs. Gunther of East Liverpool, Ohio. The Swifts and Gunthers are all potters, and the Swifts were employed at a local china factory and the Gunthers will be. Mr. and Mrs. Swift left recently on a trip through Yellowstone park, from whence they will drive to Akron, Ohio. Mr. and Mrs. Gunther have sold their property located at East Liverpool, Ohio, and arrived here Friday, bag and baggage. He is already employed at the china factory.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry O. Kanthack of Winona, Minn., have arrived in Burbank and have settled for the time being at 428 Olive avenue. Mr. Kanthack is expecting to make Burbank his future home.

Miss Adams of East Liverpool, Ohio, is staying at the Elizabeth hotel until the home started by per parents in Glendale is completed.

WILL GIVE AWAY HANDSOME COUPE

Ever-Ready Service Station Opens Sales Campaign Of Three Months

Someone is going to be made happy by the gift of a new Ford coupe, according to the plans that have been announced by H. J. Seely, proprietor of the Ever-Ready Service Station, 101 South Central avenue, who has launched a ninety-day selling campaign that is expected to increase his already important volume of business.

With every dollar's worth of gasoline, oil, tires, auto supplies or service sold at the station between June 15 and September 14, Mr. Seely will give a ticket entitling the holder to an opportunity to win the Ford coupe, and those motorists who save their coupons will naturally stand the best chance of winning the car.

That New York will have a population of 12,900,000 by 1933 and 29,000,000 by the year 2,000 are the predictions based on the United States census figures of the city during the 30-year period between 1890 and 1920.

BABY ABANDONED

INDIO, June 14.—Constable John Boatright of this small railroad town is puzzled. He is "over up" one budding citizen—a baby girl—who was found on the doorstep of an Indio home Thursday morning.

Boatright knows everyone in town pretty well and he informed County Probation Officer C. W. Mathews of Riverside, who investigated the case that it must have been the child of "some automobile tourists."

A home has been provided the baby pending action by the county official.

DESTROYS EVIDENCE

RIVERSIDE, June 14.—The crash of glass and the scent of evil liquors give notice to the world that Police Chief Elmer Zeiss is "spring house-cleaning" today. All of the evidence from numerour booze raids is being destroyed in a pit dug for the purpose.

RIVERSIDE, June 14.—Frank Miller, host at the Glenwood Mission Inn, is in receipt of six Tiffany stained glass windows from the old Parkhurst Presbyterian church, in Madison Square, New York City. They are in charge of three experts from Los Angeles who personally attended to their removal across the continent. The windows are considered the choicest art treasures of their kind in America that money could buy.

TO HONOR SOLON

EL CENTRO, June 14.—Congressman Phil Swing of this city will be the honored guest at a banquet tendered him by his fellow townspeople the night of June 18 at the Barbara Worth hotel. At this time it is expected he will define his platform on the Boulder canyon dam program which he is leading in congress.

SUN BURNS LEAVES

BANNING, June 14.—So it's sunburn that has left many of the deciduous fruit trees in this vicinity devoid of leaves this year! At least that is one of the conclusions arrived at by Prof. D. G. Milbrath, plant pathologist of the state department of agriculture, who has been studying the local situation which has materially cut this year's fruit supply.

SUES FOR PLANE

SANTA ANA, June 14.—T. C. Ryan, Los Angeles aviator, has filed suit here for $500, the value of an airplane which he alleges Robert Harlow, Westminster rancher, has securely chained to a fence following the flyer's fall from the skies here in which he made a forced landing on Wardlow's property. The rancher wants the pilot to pay for a fence and alfalfa destroyed in the crash, according to an answer which will be filed today, it is said.

BEANS IN BOSTON

SANTA ANA, June 14.—Orange county beans will provide the topic of a radio address from station WTAT, Boston, in the near future, according to J. C. Metzgar of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce. It seems that D. H. Goodwin, director of the Boston chamber's bureau of markets, has been investigating and found that the beans for which the Old Colony is famous come from Southern California and Santa Ana in particular. So it is that the story of the $2,000,000 bean crop will be broadcast back east.

READY FOR TROOPS

SAN PEDRO, June 14.—Plans are complete for the reception, drilling and housing of the twelve coast artillery companies which will arrive at Fort MacArthur July 15 for their two weeks' annual practice, according to Captain Harry H. Old Days And New

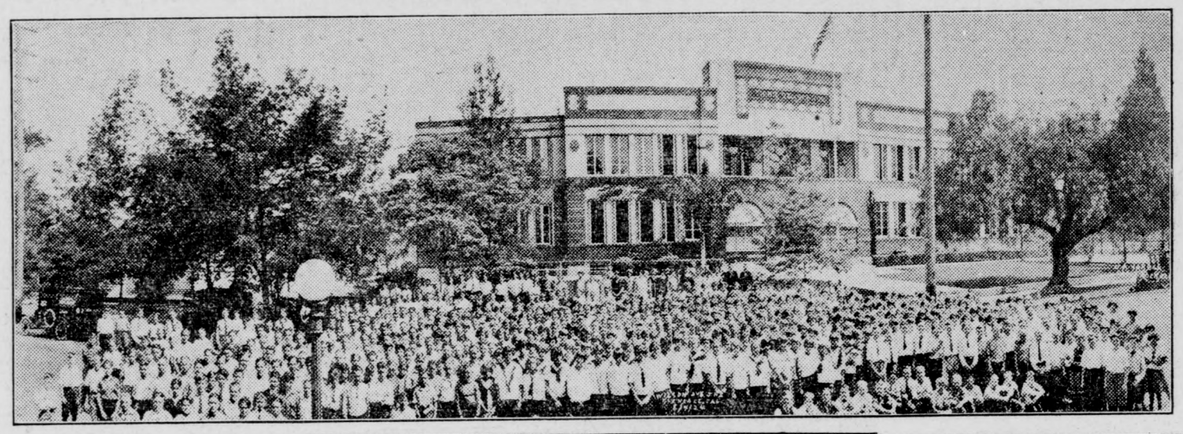
The upper picture shows the entire seventh and eighth grades of the Glendale school system in 1907. The lower picture shows the seventh and eighth grades of the Wilson avenue intermediate school, taken this month. These pictures give a comparison of Glendale's growth. They are but two of the several hundred interesting pictures, which show by comparison the growth of Glendale, on display at the Security Trust building, at the formal opening today and tonight.



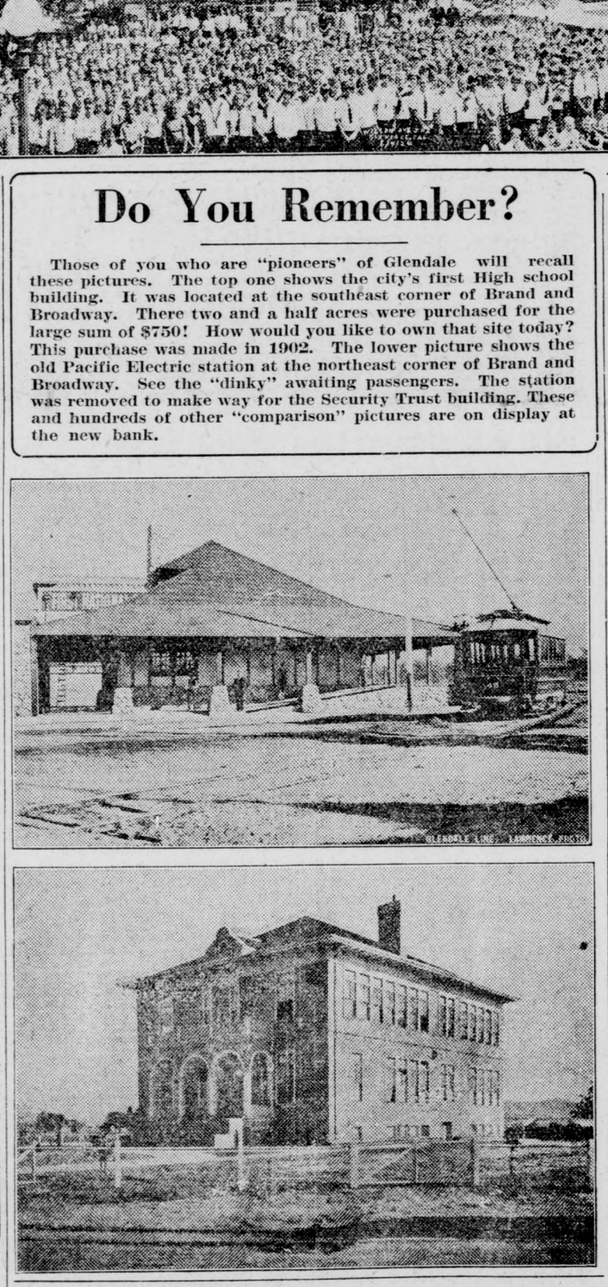
HOSPITAL PATIENTS

Mrs. Carrie G. Malone of 540 West Stocker street and Mrs. Gara Eddings of 1505-B Couth Glendale avenue, who have been patients at the Glendale Research hospital, were able to return to their homes today.

Climate of Bolivia ranges from tropical to arctic.

Do You Remember?

Those of you who are "pioneers" of Glendale will recall these pictures. The top one shows the city's first High school building. It was located at the southeast corner of Brand and Broadway. There two and a half acres were purchased for the large sum of $750! How would you like to own that site today? This purchase was made in 1902. The lower picture shows the old Pacific Electric station at the northeast corner of Brand and Broadway. See the "dinky" awaiting passengers. The station was removed to make way for the Security Trust building. These and hundreds of other "comparison" pictures are on display at the new bank.



HOLD PLACES ON ADVISORY BOARD

Hewitt Harrison and Paine Intimately Posted on Local Conditions

The Glendale branch of the Security Trust & Savings bank is fortunate in having an advisory board composed of men thoroughly experienced in business and actively interested in affairs of the community. It is composed of W. E. Hewitt, M. P. Harrison and George T. Paine, all "old-timers" for so young a community as Glendale. Mr. Hewitt, as president of the Chamber of Commerce is one of the community's leading citizens. He came here eleven years ago, and soon thereafter bought the Glendale Laundry, which prosperous business he sold but recently. He is a charter member of the Rotary club and is enrolled in the Elks club.

Mr. Harrison, before the merger of the First National bank with the Security Trust & Savings bank, was a vice-president of the former institution. He was formerly in the grain business in Nebraska, and has been in Glendale since 1910. Mr. Paine came to Glendale in 1910 also. Previously he had been in the cattle and railroad contracting business in South Dakota and Nebraska.

Advisers

ELECTRIC POWER SHORTAGE LOOMS

Companies Pledge to Help Edison With 170,000,000 Kilowatt Hours

The prospect of a 270,000,000 kilowatt shortage this summer in Southern California Edison company hydro-electricity is viewed as an unavoidable result of increased population and the dry winter by Peter Diederich, superintendent of the Glendale municipal light and water department. The shortage will mean a 20 per cent curtailment, he states.

Urgent need of co-operation all along the line in meeting this situation was sounded at a meeting of all electric companies in the state, held in Los Angeles yesterday at call of the state railroad commission. When the Edison company outlined its plight, the other companies were practically unanimous in volunteering aid. They pledged 170,000,000 kilowatt hours during the remainder of 1924.

This leaves the Edison company still 100,000,000 kilowatt hours short, which, Mr. Diederich points out, will have to be overcome by a general curtailment that may affect every resident of Glendale sightly, before the summer is over. It will not, however, be a sufficient cut to cause any real inconvenience, he states.

AIRMEN TRY OUT LANDING DEVICE

British Ministry Tests New Automatic Hinged Plane For Slow Landing

LONDON, June 14.—Tests are being made by the British Air Ministry with an automatic device to enable aeroplane to land at a much slower speed than is possible at present.

Recent inventions, like the "slot wing" and the "flap," have both attained this object up to a point, but both these depend upon the pilot for their operation.

The new device is said to be automatic, consisting of a hinged plane along the trailing edge of the planes, held down by a spring. As the speed increases the force of the air causes the flap to automatically come up level and form a line with the rest of the wing.

When the machine slows down to land the trailing edge comes down and presents an increased wing curve, thus enabling the machine to land more slowly.

KISSING DOG IS FATAL TO WOMAN

London Coroner In Inquest Declares Death Comes From Pet Terrier

LONDON, June 14.—The peril of kissing pet dogs has been the subject of a warning by Dr. Ingleby Oddie, chief London coroner, when holding inquest on Mrs. Agnes Hodgson, who died from a cyst.

"Mrs. Hodgson was devoted to a Pom," said Dr. Oddie, "an animal which ladies are so fond of kissing and hugging.

"Ladies also kiss Pekinese dogs on the nose and mouth, and they should know that they are liable in that way to acquire a horrible hydactic cyst, generally with fatal results."

Doctors stated that Mrs. Hodgson, a perfectly healthy woman, suddenly began to suffer from fainting fits, followed by pain.

The husband stated that his wife was devoted to a "Pom."

OPEN DOORS OF BANK TO GENERAL PUBLIC TODAY

Exterior and Interior Decorations at New Building in Keeping with Spirit of Flag Day as Reception Started

til 10 o'clock tonight with the prospect of even greater numbers attending. Huge search and flood lights from the Hollywood motion picture studios will play on the building.

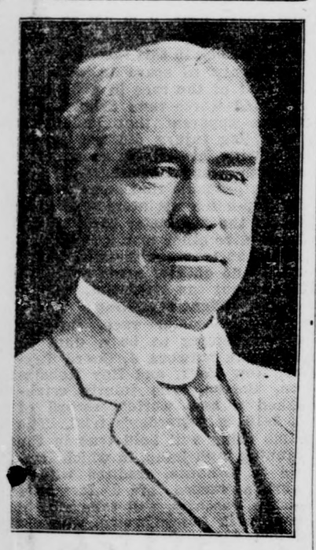
R. F. Kitterman

The man at the head of the receiving line at the big reception today and tonight in the Glendale Security building is Robert Frank Kitterman, vice-president of the Security Trust & Savings bank, and manager of the Glendale branch of that big financial institution.

Mr. Kitterman came to Glendale in time to be included in the famous census of 1920 that gave Glendale first place among America's fastest growing cities. It was in August of 1919 that he bought a large interest in the First National Bank of Glendale and became a vice-president of that pioneer Glendale bank. By August of 1922 he had secured a controlling interest of the bank and could have become its president had he so desired. But,

Organizer

LESLIE L. BRAND, organizer and first president of the bank which is now the Glendale branch of the Security Trust & Savings bank.



seeing the phenomenal growth that Glendale was making, and feeling that that development demanded a greater loaning power than a purely local bank, such as the First National Bank of Glendale could furnish, he, instead, merged the bank with the Security Trust & Savings bank of Los Angeles. By so doing, he placed at the disposal of Glendale resources nearing the $200,000,000 mark, as contrasted to the little more than $2,000,000 resources of the First National.

Early Experiences

Mr. Kitterman was born in Luverne, Minn., in 1874, and has been in business continuously since he was 24 years of age. He had the good fortune of spending his boyhood on a farm. He began his business career in the real estate business in Stanton, Neb., in 1898. He got his first banking experience with the C. H. Coffee banks, a chain of banks well known in Nebraska. He remained with them until 1918, when he came to California. A year later found him a Glendale banker.

The chief host at the big bank opening today is a man thoroughly wrapped up in big business and yet interested in vital community activities. He gives much time as a director of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce. He is vice-president of the Federated Church Brotherhoods and a member of the First Methodist church. He is married, has two children and makes his home at 311 North Kenwood.

William A. Goss

Had the Glendale Branch of the Security bank held its opening a week from today instead of today, William A. Goss, its assistant secretary and next ranking officer to Vice President Kitterman, would have held a double celebration. For it was on June 21, 1904, that that well-thought-of banker first set foot in this community as a resident. He came here in time to join in the celebration which marked the coming of the first car over the Pacific Electric tracks into Glendale and he has seen the town grow from one too small to find an official place in the United States census, to one that heads the very top of the list of America's fastest growing cities. Next Saturday will have seen him a resident of twenty years standing.

Came from Iowa

Mr. Goss was born in New Sharon, Iowa, in 1882, and remained in that place until he had graduated from high school. In 1902 he went to Birmingham, Alabama, where he grauated from the Massey Business college and spent a year with the Milner-Kettig Co., wholesale plumbing and mining supplies. When he came to Glendale he continued in business in Los Angeles from where he had come here. He commuted for the first nine years that the Pacific Electric ran its line into Glendale. In 1913 he took a position with the Glendale laundry, remaining there until June, 1918, when he became connected with the First National Bank of Glendale. A year later he was made an officer of the bank and has so continued.

Mr. Goss is well liked and highly respected by all who know him and that includes a large number of people. He is a member of the Chamber of Commerce and the First Methodist church. He is married and lives at 514 East Harvard with his wife and three children.

Ernest E. Osgood

Ernest E. Osgood, assistant cashier of the Glendale branch of the Security bank, has been about the busiest of the whole banking personnel in getting the beautiful new home of the Glendale Security in shape for the inspection it is receiving from thousands today. He has spent but few hours the past week at his accustomed post in the quarters vacated this noon, so great have been the demands on him in the new place.

Mr. Osgood is one of those individuals so numerous in Northern California, but so rare in Southern Califonia, a native son. He was born in Oakland in 1889 and has been so thorough-going a Californian that he has yet to experience his first snow storm. He has lived either in Los Angeles or Glendale ever since he was three years old. He was a member of the first class ever to graduate from the Polytechnic High school, Los Angeles, and has seen that city grow from a place served by one high school to one that is crowding more than 20.

Came Here in 1912

Soon after graduation he went with Bott-Osgood company hardware and plumbing supplies, remaining as secretary-treasurer for ten years. He came to Glendale in 1912 when the city's population had just climbed over the 3000 mark. He, like Mr. Goss, was a daily customer of the Pacific Electric for a good many years as his business interests continued in Los Angeles. He spent 1917, 1918 and part of 1919 in the purchasing department of the Union Oil company. It was during the latter year that he became connected with the First National bank and now finds himself an officer of the Security Trust & Savings bank.

The Masonic lodge, the First Methodist church and the Chamber of Commerce enroll Mr. Osgood as a member. He is married and, with Mrs. Osgood and two boys, makes his home at 521 North Louise street.

Everett L. Osborn, Jr.

None of the officers of the Glendale branch of the Security Trust & Savings bank will feel more at home in the handsome new home opened for the first time today than Everett L. Osborn, Jr. Mr. Osborn, who is an assistant cashier, has had the run of a bank ever since he was a boy. His father was cashier of the First National bank of Montrose, Colo., for more than 31 years. The Osborn family is a family of bankers.

Following his graduation from the high school at Montrose, Mr. Osborn came to Los Angeles to attend Occidental college and while there made his mark in athletics and student activities as well as in his studies. He knows what it it to have been a football hero, which is a good experience for almost anyone in the business world. He was associated with his father for some time following college days, but, like almost everyone who has had a taste of California, he was not satisfied with the old home. By 1920 he was back in California for good and has been in Glendale since that time.

Joins Bank Force

Coming to the First National bank of Glendale that year, he was made an officer the year previous to that bank's merger with the Security Trust & Savings bank, and was so continued by the latter institution.

Mr. Osborn is a Mason and a member of the First Presbyterian church and the Chamber of Commerce. He is married, the father of four children, and makes his home at 127 Sinclair street.

Planting of 15,000 seedling trees a day can be accomplished with a mechanical device drawn by two horses, and manned by two men to keep the hopper well filled with the trees.

NEW COMEDY FOR MURPHY PATRONS

'East Is West' Will Occupy Stage at Big Tent All Next Week

"The Unkissed Bride" plays for the last time tonight at the big tent of Murphy's Comedians on Stocker street, Casa Verdugo, between Brand boulevard and Central avenue. Tomorrow night the company will open with "East Is West," the famous Fay Bainter hit.

Murphy's shows always start at 8 o'clock and are always at popular prices, states J. A. Menard, one of the proprietors. "The Unkissed Bride" has been hilariously funny and thousands of people from Glendale and surrounding points have enjoyed it. Tonight will be the last chance for those who have been promising themselves a treat to go and see the play, he warns.

"East Is West" is a comedy along different lines, having a touch of heart in it and also offering some very tense moments. Those who have seen the play before will want to see it again and those who have not will be glad of the opportunity to witness an American stage classic.

GOLFERS TRY OUT OAKMONT COURSE

Members Throng Nine Hole Links on Opening Day At Country Club

A shower of golf balls descended this morning on the Oakmont Country club, for the first nine holes of the club's golf course was opened for games.

Reports from the clubhouse at noon today stated that over seventy-five golfers were out to tee off on the new course. Among the seventy-five players one woman was noted.

A buffet luncheon was served at 1 o'clock and tonight a sport dance will be held.

The golf course is to be open tomorrow and many golf enthusiasts who were unable to be "among those present" today will be on hand for the first Sunday on the course.

Legion Team to Play Pasadena In Opener

The American Legion team, composed of members of Glendale post No. 127, will meet the Pasadena Paint lineup tomorrow in the opening game of a double bill at the San Fernando park. The Legion game will start at 12 o'clock noon and will be followed at 2:30 o'clock by a regular scheduled Summer League game between the Pacific Electrics and the Glendale White Sox.

The Legion team has won eight out of nine games played this season, dropping their first loss to the Tom Mix Wild Cats last Sunday. The White Sox have won their last sixteen games and are playing the Gilmore Oilers this afternoon. A single admission pays the way for both games tomorrow afternoon.

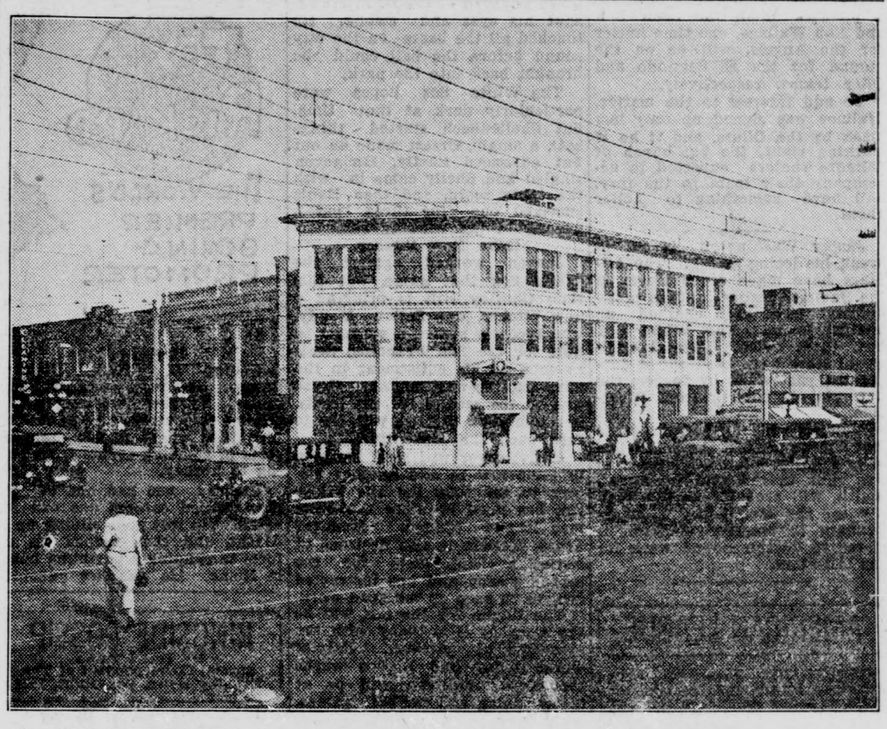
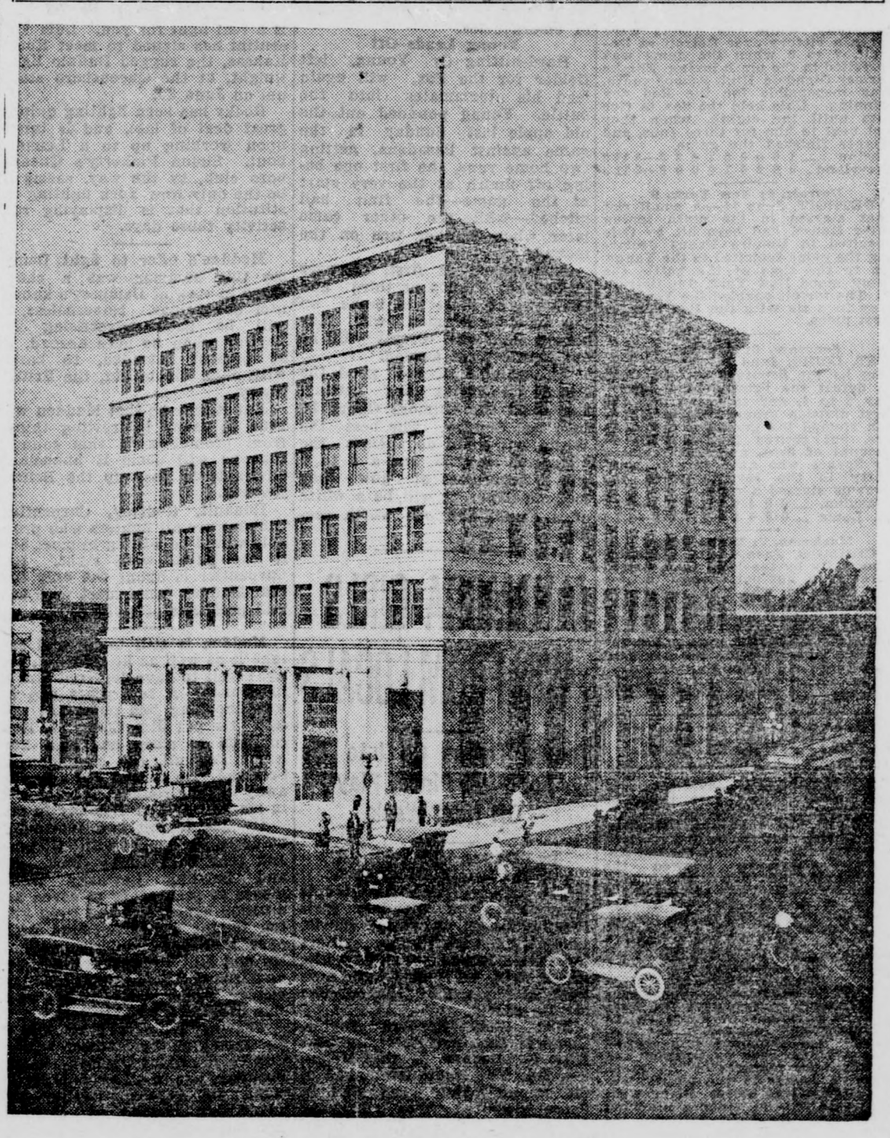
Pictures Show Growth

These three pictures show the growth in Glendale of the Security Trust & Savings bank. The upper picture shows the bank when it was located on North Brand just north of the new six-story building. The residence across the street is the present site of the Lawson building. The second picture is the bank's home at Brand and Broadway. The lower picture shows the new six-story structure, Glendale's first "skyscraper."





High Blood Pressure Of Woman Puzzling

DETROIT, June 14.—With her blood pressure "around 300," Mrs. Marie Ferguson has been resting unconcernedly at her home, a living puzzle, and has given Detroit's medical men a bad headache trying to "figure her out."

Mrs. Ferguson is a living phenomenon, the doctors say. Orthodox medicine, they declare, says that "there never was and never will be" a blood pressure of 300 in a living human being.

According to doctors, the volumes reposing on the shelves at the medical colleges say that Mrs. Ferguson, who is 59, should have a normal blood pressure of 157. With her blood galloping in the veins at 200 she ought to be seriously ill. At a pressure of 250 apoplexy ought to have set in and written "finis" to her mortal history.

Yet, according to Dr. Louis J. Garripy, resident gynecologist at the receiving hospital, who has been her physician for more than six months, Mrs. Ferguson's condition, with her blood pressure at 300, has caused her some discomfort from fever, but very little loss of sleep.

With a radiometer heat from a burning candle can be detected at a distance of three miles.

VESUVIUS RAILROAD

From an electric railway, which goes almost to the top of the cone on Mt. Vesuvius, many fine views of the bay of Naples are obtainable. An observatory has been built 2200 feet up the mountain and from this place, between two gorges, many geological surveys have safely been made as the lava flows between the gorges here.

PLUMP VENUS IS OUT OF DATE AS PAINTERS' MODEL

General Tendency in Royal Academy Exhibit Is Toward Slimness

By LUTHER A. HUSTON,
For International News Service.

LONDON, June 14.—Venus is out of date.

The days when painters who felt the urge to depict on canvas the contours of the undraped female form with plenty of averdupois and the general appearance of having been carefully hand-fed from infancy seem to have departed—perhaps forever. In order to get a job as an artist's model nowadays Venus would have to diet carefully and do her "daily dozen" conscientiously. Otherwise the verdict of the painters and sculptors would be "too fat."

It is this general slimness of feminine construction that is one of the outstanding impressions to be gained from the 156th exhibition of the Royal Academy of Arts, which is the chief event of the year in British art circles. It is impossible to escape the conclusion that artists' models of today are thinner than they used to be.

Nudity is by no means the prevalent theme of the exhibitors at this year's Academy. Out of more than 1,000 pictures hung not more than fifty depict the female figure sans clothing. But the subject of beautiful ladies disrobing for their bath, cavorting in carefree nakedness in some sylvan retreat, or enjoying a romp, without garments, in the privacy of their boudoir seems still to be attractive to numerous painters of the modern school.

Most "Get By"

Of the pictures portraying feminine nudity in this year's Academy none is likely to arouse any great controversy or cause shivers of horror to wrack the spines of puritanical spectators. Most of them will "get by" without difficulty, under the mandate of artistic license.

There is one picture, however, in which a semi-nude man and several half-clothed women are depicted in a scene of rather barbaric voluptuousness. It is entitled "The Lemnians" and is apparently intended to portray some ancient legend of the inhabitants of the Isle of Lemnos. The meaning of the picture is not clear to the uninitiated, but the handling of his subject by W. Russell Flint, the artist, is sufficiently daring to have made the picture the centre of interest despite the fact that, from a purely artistic standpoint, it has little merit.

Generally speaking, the exhibition is singularly free from pictures that make a Chelsea or a Greenwich Village training necessary to understand them. There is a noticeable absence of "freak" stuff, and the cubists, futurists and others of this school are entirely unrepresented.

King's Legs Thin

Probably the most notable painting on exhibition is the portrait of King George V, by Charles Sims, R. A. It is not exactly flattering to the King, as it rather emphasizes the deficiencies of his calves and makes his beard seem to have turned gray in spots only. These defects, however, are softened by the wonderful expression of benignity and kindness which the artist has imparted to the monarch's face. The coloring of the royal robes and the general setting of the picture is so exquisitely done as to make the whole work one of exceptionally high artistic merit.

Aside from its merit as a painting, which is high, Sir John Lavery's picture of the British House of Commons in 1924 is likely to become a work of great historic interest. It depicts a crowded House of Commons listening to an address by Ramsay DacDonald, the first Labor Prime Minister of England. Lloyd George, Asquith, Stanley Baldwin, Austen Chamberlain and other notable figures of contemporary British politics are distinguished among the parliamentarians grouped on the historic benches.

Details Good

In its attention to detail, such as the paper-strewn floor, the lounging attitudes of members, etc., and its faithfulness to natural colorings the picture shows a touch of Lavery's recognized genius.

As a whole the exhibition this year is pleasing and worth while, but it would be inaccurate to say that it contains pictures that future generations are likely to look upon as masterpieces.

Legion and Auxiliary Flag Day Exercise

Flag Day was observed last night at the American Legion hall by a joint meeting of the Legion and the Auxiliary, presided over by Commander J. A. Wilson of the local post, No. 127.

Mrs. E. W. Gilliland, president of the Auxiliary, delivered an address on "The Meaning of the American Flag." Commander Wilson presented an American flag to Troop 4, the Boy Scouts, on behalf of the Legion. The response was made by Milford Brunner, patrol leader. Scoutmaster A. G. Wheelon of the troop said a few words. Refreshments were then served, after which the meeting closed.

SEALS EVEN UP SERIES; ANGELS DEFEATED 10-9

Rally in Seventh Enables Visitors to Overcome Five-Run Lead

LOS ANGELES, June 14.—The series today stands two all, following the hectic game yesterday when the Seals overcame a five run-lead and beat the Angels 10 to 9. It was a game marked by fierce hitting, numerous hurlers working for both sides and wild base running. Charley Root started for the Angels, gave way to Payne, who was replaced by Ramsey, and Nick Dumovich finished the game. The Angels bombarded Mitchell in the sixth, pounded Geary out of the box and then Pat Shea was called to the rescue.

The Angels started out in the first inning to win the game, and counted two runs. The Seals evened up matters in the fourth with a double, but the Seraph wrecking crew upset things in the sixth with six runs after the Seals had added another tally.

Fighting with all the vim that has placed them on the top, the Seals pounded in seven runs in the next inning, while the best the Krug crew could do in their share of the frame was a lone tally. Both sides finished the game without further scoring.

TIGERS 8, OAKS 4

OAKLAND, June 14.—The Tigers pounded four Oakland pitchers hard and mowed the locals down 8 to 4 here yesterday afternoon. Mails, Siebold, Harris and Robinson were the unfortunate quartet the Bengals rapped for thirteen hits, while Penner was touched for twelve hits, but kept them well scattered.

D. Murphy and Guisto fattened up their batting averages with a home run apiece, while Blakesley got a triple and two two-baggers. Deal, Arlett, Lafayett and Adams livened up the game with double bingles. Penner fanned five while Harris sent one Tiger to the bench without doing any damage.

PORTLAND, June 14.—The failure of Seattle players to connect when hits meant runs resulted in the Ducks winning yesterday's game 8 to 4. Winters was touched for eight hits by the Indians but aside from the third and eighth innings, he was seldom in danger. Portland gathered nine hits off Sutherland, pounding him hard in the second, fifth and seventh innings.

Prough held the Bees scoreless until the sixth inning, when one run was counted. Three more in the eighth made up the visitors' total. Siglin got a home run off McCabe.

SUMMER LEAGUE NOTES

By A. S. HALL
of THE EVENING NEWS STAFF

SUNDAY SCHEDULE

Pacific Electrics vs. White Sox at Glendale.

Gilmore Oilers vs. El Segundo at El Segundo.

Colored AllStars vs. Pasadena Merchants at Brookside Park.

There will be three fast games in the Summer league tomorrow. Above is given the schedule for the day's activities; you can pick your own winners and see how they come out.

This prediction may not come true, but on paper it looks like:

White Sox will beat Pacific Electries by at least three runs.

Gilmore Oilers will get a shade the best in their battle with El Segundo.

Jasper Washington's crew will give the Merchants a little worry, but Ury's gang will have a couple of extra scores when the bat boys start to work packing up.

The game at El Segundo, next to the contest at the San Fernando park, will be the liveliest battle of the day. Indications point to a pitchers' duel, for Leon Bell and Bob Wallace, one time hurler for the Angels, will be on the mound for the El Segundo and Oiler teams, respectively.

To add interest to the matter, Wallace was signed up only last week by the Oilers, and if he is working right, the big bunch of Gilmore rooters expected to accompany their team to the fray, will have something to holler about.

Jasper Washington is out to break his losing streak. The All-Stars have made seven starts in the Summer league, and as many defeats have been chalked up against them. The White Sox beat them twice. Several additional stars have been added during the past week by Jasper, the new players coming from Riverside.

Manker, who finished the game last Sunday against the White Sox after the Glendale boys had scored five runs in the first inning off Smith, will probably do the hurling for the Merchants, with Arkenberg in reserve. Jackson is slated to do the mound work for the All-Stars.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

CLEVELAND, June 14. — The American league race remains unchanged today as far as top position is concerned, as the Red Sox defeated the Indians here 8 to 3 yesterday, while the Yanks were given a victory over Detroit at Detroit, 9 to 0 when the game was forfeited in the ninth inning, Ehmke former Glendale High School youth, was responsible for the Red Sox winnings. Uhle held the Sox to five hits until the eighth, when they got next to him for three runs, and Shaute finished the game.

Boston ..... 1 0 0 0 0 1 0 3 3—8 11 3
Cleveland.. 0 0 0 2 0 1 0 0 0 0—3 11 3

Detroit, 0; New York, 9

DETROIT, June 14.—A small riot that started in the ninth inning after Meusel had been hit by Cole resulted in Umpire Evans declaring the game forfeited to the Yanks. Up to the time of the battle the count stood New York, 10; Detroit, 6. The forfeit enabled the Yanks to stay in a tie with the Red Sox for first place.

Senators, 6; Browns, 4

ST. LOUIS, June 14.—Timely hitting by the Senators enabled them to defeat the Browns here yesterday 6 to 4, and to crawl into the first division group. Walter Johnson started the game for the visitors, but retired in the fifth on account of heat, and was replaced by Spence who gave way to Marberry in the seventh when the Browns started a rally.

Washing. .... 0 0 4 0 0 1 0 0 1—6 8 1
St. Louis .... 0 0 0 1 0 1 2 0 0—4 7 3

Mackmen, 7; White Sox, 6

CHICAGO, June 14.—A ninth inning rally by the local team netted three runs, but not enough to beat the Athletics, who won yesterday's game 7 to 6. The Mackmen overcame an early three-run lead by two in the fourth, one in the sixth and four in the seventh. Meeker worked for the winners while the Sox used McWeeny and Connolly.

Phila. ..... 0 0 0 2 0 1 4 0 0—7 11 1
Chicago .... 0 0 3 0 0 0 0 0 3—6 10 1

NATIONAL LEAGUE

BOSTON, June 14.—While Cincinnati trimmed the Giants, the Cubs won from the Braves here yesterday 5 to 1, and went into first place. The victory was the second straight win from the local team for the visitors. Kaufmann allowed the Braves nine hits, five of which were two-baggers. Padgett accounted for three extra base drives. Stryker and McNamara pitched for Boston, allowing ten hits.

Chicago .... 2 0 0 0 2 0 0 0 1—5 10 1

Reds, 4; Giants, 1

NEW YORK, June 14.—Three runs in the tenth inning gave the Reds a 4 to 1 victory over the Giants yesterday and resulted in the New York team dropping into second place. Home runs by Bressler and Gowdy were features of the game. Gowdy's homer in the eighth was the Giant's lone score. Rivey went the route for the winners, allowing nine hits. The Reds gathered ten hits off Watson and Dean, Dean going in after Snyder had batted for Watson in the eighth.

Cincin. .. 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 3—4 10-0
New York 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0—1 9 1

Cards, 8; Dodgers, 3

BROOKLYN, June 14.—The Cardinals jumped on two Brooklyn pitchers in the eighth inning yesterday and drove in six runs, and the visitors won 8 to 3. Osborne and Henry were the victims. Fournier collected three two-baggers. Sothron was on the mound for the Browns.

St. Louis .... 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 6 1—8 11 3
Brooklyn .. 1 1 0 0 0 0 0 1 0—3 8 1

STAYS ON TOP

The Red Sox clung to first place with the Yankees by defeating Cleveland, 8 to 3, scoring six runs in the eighth and ninth.

CARDINALS WIN

Sothorn held the Dodgers in check and the Cardinals won easily, 8 to . 3

WHITE SOX PLAY ELECTRIC CREW AT PARK SUNDAY

Moudy Signed to Pitch For Trolley Men; Legion to Play In Opener

The week-end is going to be a busy one for the White Sox, for in addition to meeting the Gilmore Oilers this afternoon in the big Baseball Booster Day contest, the pale hose wearers will climb into their uniforms tomorrow and once more tackle the Pacific Electric crew. The game will be the second on a double bill and will start at 2:30 o'clock.

The trolley gang appeared at the San Fernando park on May 11 and made the White Sox hustle to get a 4 to 3 victory. Every baseball fan who saw that game remembers how the local squad trailed along with the score tied 2 to 2 until the eighth inning, when Leonard of the P. E. crowd, shut his eyes and swung. He touched all the bases on the way round before the ball could be brought back into the park.

The White Sox hopes were particularly dark at that time, but Shellenbach started things with a single, Orsatt made an out but advanced Shelly, Hirigoyen singled and Shelly came in with the tying score, and then Ennis smacked one for three bases, driving in the winning run.

Have New Pitcher

Jensen worked against the White Sox that game, but this time Charley Hilk is bringing a new pitcher, one Sailor Moudy, who recently signed a contract to hurl for the San Francisco Seals as soon as his enlistment in the navy expires next month. Cruze was on the mound for the locals, but tomorrow Bigbee will try to turn back the nickel-grabbers.

Carl Sawyer will send his men in tomorrow to add another victory to the long list the White Sox has piled up since the Summer league opened. Manager Frank Kerwin is also desirous of having a clean slate for the league season and has instructed Sawyer to keep up the good work.

The lineup for the Sox will be the same as it is today with the exception of pitcher. Palmer works today and Bigbee works tomorrow. Sullivan will be at the receiving end for both games, with Dorman in reserve in case of emergencies.

Young Leads Off

Hard-hitting Cy Young, left fielder for the Sox, will again lead his teammates into the battle. Young pounded out the old apple last Sunday in the game against Pasadena, getting two home runs, the first one being off Smith at the very start of the game—the first ball pitched—while the other came later when Manker was on the mound.

Shellenbach at first, Sawyer at Second, Shields at third and Hirigoyn at short will make up the infield. Dorman will play center field and Orsatt will be out in the right garden.

An example of how good the Pacific Electrics are getting, they beat the Gilmore Oilers 10 to 4 last Sunday. The best the White Sox could do against the oilers on May 25 was a 5 to 4 win. Regardless of how they look on paper, it will be a whizz of a game, and one worth seeing.

ALHAMBRA GIRLS WIN FROM LOCALS

Tennis Teams Go Into Tie For First Place, Play Off Next Week

By ROSS M. RUSSELL, JR.
Of The Evening News Staff.

The Alhambra girls' tennis team beat the Glendale girls Wednesday on the local courts, 11-6, tying with the Dynamiters for the league championship, which will be played off next week at South Pasadena on four private courts.

Miss Mary Barbara Taylor, Glendale first player, easily beat Miss K. Bennet of the Moors, 6-4, 6-4. The Moors triumphed in the second match when Miss B. Pease defeated Miss Charlotte Hawkenson, 6-0, 6-0. Miss Erma Garber eliminated Miss H. Richardson, 6-4, 6-0. In the fourth match, Miss Dorothy Van Osdeli was beaten by Miss L. Karroll of the Moors, 6-2, 6-3.

Lost in Doubles

The locals lost the match in the doubles. In the first doubles Misses Bennett and Pease defeated Misses Taylor and Garber in a long, hard-fought match, 3-6, 6-4, 6-2. Mary Barbara was hitting her drive hard and Miss Garber failed to return few shots which came to her, but the Alhambra girls' net work won. They advanced to the net on almost all shots, where they volleyed off their opponents' returns. Miss Richardson and Miss Karroll took the second doubles from Misses Van Osdell and Hawkenson, 6-2, 6-4.

The result of the Moor victory in this match ties them for first place with Glendale. Tuesday the same two teams will meet again to play off the tie. With Mary Hawkenson back in form next week, the locals should win. If the Glendale girls can manage to win the doubles events next Tuesday, they will have the match.

THE BIG BOYS FOR BIG THINGS — By DICK DORGAN

TEX AND HIS "PILL."
TEX RICKARD
THE WORLD'S PREMIER BOXING PROMOTER
EVERY ONE THOUGHT HE WAS CRAZY WHEN HE OFFERED $32,000 FOR A FIGHT IN GOLDFIELD—. NOW ITS A COOL MILLION OR NOTHING
DICK DORGAN

George L. (Tex) Rickard, greatest and most successful promoter, is now working on a scheme to control clubs in the few big cities where he can hold all sorts of sporting events from boxing to hockey.

Rickard has had one of the most varied careers one can imagine. He was gold mining up in Alaska and then turned his efforts to running a gambling house in Nome. He was cow punching in his home state of Texas and interested himself in great ranches in South America.

When the gold fever hit Goldfield, Nevada, Rickard was there. The town needed booming so, in 1906, he promoted the Gans-Nelson battle and made a nice little "poke" for himself despite a great deal of criticism from the pugilistic world. He didn't do much then till the Jeffries-Johnson bout at Reno in 1910. There, through taking in over $270,000, he showed the cock-eyed world that there was big dough in the boxing game.

Since the Reno affair Tex has promoted about 150 fights, the fans paying out somewhere around $10,000,000 to give them the once over. This fact in itself is enough to prove that Rickard is king of all the fight promoters. But he wants to hit the 20 million mark before he throws in the towel.

RINGSIDE GOSSIP

By FAIR PLAY
Special Correspondent of The Evening News, Copyright, 1924

NEW YORK, June 14. — Here is a real fight for you. Luis Vincentini has signed to meet Rocky Kansas, the rugged Buffalo lightweight, at the Queensboro stadium on June 30.

Rocky has been fighting quite a great deal of late, and is intent upon working up to a Leonard bout. Simon Flaherty's Queensboro club, by the way, seems to be the only New York fighting institution that is displaying real activity these days.

Madden's offer to fight Dempsey this summer was a cheap crack in view of Dempsey's known film obligations. Nonetheless, it will be good advertising for Bartley when he goes abroad, as at present intended, to battle with Jack Bloomfield, the British heavy.

But it may be that Madden will hear so many interesting things from promoters in this country that he will deem it financially advisable to pass up the British journey.

Renault, Godfrey, Carpentier, Gibbons are all fighters who probably would be willing to meet him if the purse were right. But Carpentier is about the only one that Madden could meet with any real prospects of victory.

Madden is still tough and can take it as well as he ever did, but age seems to have deprived him of his punch. A few years ago he was knocking 'em out right and left. He put Jim Coffey of Roscommon to sleep and aslo Sergeant Penwell, the champion of Scotland. He stowed Joe Jeanette away in four rounds, Tom Cowler in six and Soldier Delaney in six.

He has fought two ten-round, no-decision bouts with Gibbons and four with Harry Greb. He and Battling Levinsky threw gloves at each other in seven no-decision bouts. He and Fred Fulton fought a twelve-round draw once and one no-decision bout. He and Bill Brennan fought five no-decision battles, and his last victory was a twelve-round decision over Jack McAuliffe II.

Charley Weinert gave him a fine lacing at the Madison Square Garden the night Dempsey fought Brennan, but in all probability he could not repeat. Bartley has never been knocked out. Perhaps his eagerness for experience in that direction inspired his challenge to Dempsey.

JOHNSON WINS

Walter Johnson got credit for another victory when the Senators won from the Browns, 6 to 4.

The Cubs went into first place by trouncing the Braves, 5 to 1.

Tiger - Yank Game Forfeited, Fight Is Staged by Crowd

DETROIT, June 14.—The Tiger-Yankee game was forfeited to the Yankees, 9 to 0, in the ninth yesterday afternoon when police were unable to clear the field of fans who swarmed from the stands and staged a score of impromptu fights following a dispute between Bert Cole, pitching for Detroit, and Meusel, Yankee outfielder.

FOR GAME'S SAKE

By LAWRENCE PERRY,
Special Correspondent of The Evening News, Copyright, 1924

NEW YORK, June 14.—Uncle Sam has never had a better track and field team for Olympic competition than will be assembled for the Paris invasion this year.

This is the fact that stood out importantly as the nation's amateur athletes gathered for the final Olympic trials in the Harvard stadium at Cambridge this week-end.

We will show weakness in only two events, the walk and the javelin. In all other respects the American team of 1924 will be better performers than ever before; will be better trained and better coached.

Why? Well, because preparations have been carried on in a more scientific manner, for one thing. Secondly, because of the growth of athletic enthusiasm throughout the country; and, finally, because coaches were selected early and given real authority.

SPORT WISDOM

By WALTER CAMP
Special Correspondent of The Evening News, Copyright, 1924

NEW YORK, June 14. — If there's anything in that most interesting contention about the similarity of the baseball swing and the golf stroke, Miss Glenna Collett must rate about even with Babe Ruth, and the baseball scouts missed one when they failed to put in an appearance the other day at the Brae Burn Country club, just outside Boston, and watch Miss Collett play the old Scotch game on this modern course.

She went out in 39 and home in 37, for a total of 76 strokes—just two above par for the course and within four of the professional record established there eleven years ago and tied only once since by a man.

Whether or not Miss Collett is a potential Babe Ruth, the writer believes that her work on the Brae Burn course will stand as a man's record for years. She was ten strokes better than any of her competitors and simply "spread-eagled" the field.

BASEBALL QUESTION BOX

If you have some question to ask about baseball—

If you want a rule interpreted—

If you want to know anything about a play or player—

Write John B. Foster, the man who helped make the rules under which the game is played today. If you want a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed, envelope. Otherwise your question will be answered in this column.

Address: John B. Foster, Special Baseball Correspondent of the Evening News, 811 World Building, New York.

QUESTION—Runner is on first base. Pitcher has right foot on the rubber. He is facing the runner and winds up. Is it a balk if he throws to first? Pitcher has not faced batter since placing foot on rubber.

ANSWER—This is a good description of what is known as the half balk motion. In a movement of that kind the umpire is the judge of what the play is to be called. Some umpires rule it a balk and some otherwise. It is a matter of personal opinion as almost all balk motions are.

QUESTION—Is Southworth of the Giants formerly of Boston, equal to Stengel in the bat and the field? If so, why?

ANSWER—The Giants hope that he is equal and better. Expression of personal opinion as to the merits of players decides nothing.

QUESTION—Is it legal for a batter to bunt on the third strike?

ANSWER—It is. If he fouls he is out.

QUESTION—We have been having an argument. One says Quinn of the Boston Americans is Polish. How many players are Polish in the big leagues?

ANSWER—Quinn, it is stated is not a Pole. Coveleskie is a Pole. Most players are reticent about their racial ancestry.

PLEASANT TIME?

Detroit fans joined the players in fighting that ended in a riot, and the game was forfeited to the Yankees, who were leading 10 to 6 in the ninth inning when the trouble started.

PRESENT LETTERS AT HIGH SCHOOL

Over Sixty Awarded G's for Prowess In Various Lines of Sports

The semester presentation of letters and pennants at the Glendale Union High school took place yesterday when over sixty boys were given red and black G's for their efforts in various sports.

The first presentation was made by Coach Normal U. Hayhurst who gave the heavyweight basketball men their letters. The following received G's for Class A basketball: Howard "Breezy" Elliott, captain of last year's five; Cecil Zaun, forward; Francis Hardey, captain of next year's squad; Jesse Hibbs, Theodore Haig, Swaney and Cecil Dotson. The men who were presented with G's for lightweight basketball by Coach Butterfield were: Elmer Muff, Johnny Lovell, Lyle MacAllister, Achie Neel, Reed Stearman, Johnny Hiedaman, Jack Alvord and Raber Beaman. Those receiving small G's for Class C or 110 basketball were: Henry Steele, captain; Mitchell, Harold Beggs, Harris, Monty Kilinger, Fred Smith. The presentations were made by Coach Eugene Wolfe.

Letters for Track

The Class A track men who were presented with letters by Coach Hayhurst were: Bud Elliott, next year's captain; Richardson Jones, Purdy, Maydwell, Harry Murphy, "Red" Parker, Howard Elliot, Fred Jones, Emerson Anstey, Leslie Lavelle, Fred Kennedy, Bill Bradbury, Elsworth De Parq, Frank Lee, Harrison and Harry Fish. Letters for Class C track wee given to Shirley Miller, Howard Dinsmore, Darrell Korb, Monty Kilinger, Clayton Lowe and "Grindy" Grindell.

Members of the baseball team receiving letters were Carl Denney, outfielder; Elmer Muff, shortstop and catcher; Leslie Lavelle, first baseman; Johnny Lovell, infielder; Bud Elliot, outfielder; Ray Gene Doll, infielder; Fred Smith, outfielder; Jimmy Stumpf, catcher and third baseman; Louis Dotson, infielder; Bill Brooks and Charlie Smith, pitchers. Pete Keogh, who was in line for a letter, dropped out when the season was about half over.

Wayne Maxwell, captain of next year's tennis team; Bob Laird, captain this season; Francis Hardey, fifth man; Lee Osborne, fourth man, and Llewellyn White, third man, were given their tennis G's by Coach Hayhurst.

This year has been a record breaker for Glendale High school in the way of sports. The football team last year was rated as one of the best in the state. The Class C football team was as good in its class as the big one. The Class C track team, composed of Lowe, Miller, Nord and Dinsmore, broke the Southern California Class C 440 relay record and received four medals for their efforts. Miller, in addition to running the fastest leg of the relay, won second place and a silver medal in the broad jump. The tennis team has annexed the league pennant with the loss of two points, and is rated as the strongest net four in the state.

Next year many of this year's sport demons will be back and another year just as good if not better than the last one is looked forward to by head coach, Normal C. Hayhurst.

PADDOCK OUTRUN IN SEMI FINALS

Scholz, Lloyd and C. Bowman Beat Him to Tape In 100 Metre Dash

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 14. —The clipping of the world record for 400 metres by J. Coard Taylor of Princeton and Ray Robertson of Boston A. A., and the placing of Charles Paddock fourth in one of the semi-final heats of the 100 metre dash, furnished the fire works during the first day of the final Olympic tryouts yesterday afternoon.

Paddock was beaten to the tape by Jackson Scholtz, Keith Lloyd, University of Southern California, and Chet Bowman of Syracuse. He had no excuse, Scholz coming along from behind to take the lead from him and win breezing. It was announced by officials that Paddock would be allowed to run in the semi-finals tomorrow.

Paddock took care of his own qualification for tomorrow's activities by winning his heat in the 200 metre dash and equalling his own, world's record for the distance of 21 2-10 seconds.

HEAVY TRACK AT STADIUM LOOMS

Puzzle Ushers In Big Day At Harvard; Athletes Ready for Finals

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service.

BOSTON, June 14.—The big moment for America's foremost athletes arrived today in a drizzle of rain and the prospect that the last day of the final and ultimate Olympic tryouts would feature a heavy track and sub-normal field conditions. Only the first four place winners, barring extenuating circumstances, will be considered for places on the team in each event and even such an illustrious gent as Charles Paddock will be tendered no special consideration if he fails to run according to expectations.

Paddock really was shut out in his semi-final heat of the 100 metres dash when he ran fourth behind Jackson Scholz, Keith Lloyd and Chet Bowman, but the officials, remembering his past record, waived the regulations and permitted him to go on to the final today.

Pick Scholz to Win

Two things were apparent in the race in question, to-wit: That Paddock is hardly stepping at his best and that Scholz is probably the greatest sprinter in America today. The writer will be immoderately surprised if Scholz does not win the 100 metres final today. However, in spite of his 21 seconds world's record for his 200 metre heat, it is not so certain that Scholz can and will outstep Paddock in this race. Charley had plenty to spare in winning his heat of the race in a fifth of a second worse than Scholz, and it was apparent that Paddock's recent leg injury did not interfere with his speed so greatly over the longer distance.

It is probable that some few of the top-notch sprinters will stay out of the 200-meter race, in order to give other men a chance to make the team. Otherwise there will be no quarter given or asked throughout the afternoon.

Fight for First

The 400-meter race, for instance, figures to be a duel to the death between J. Coard Taylor, New York, and Ray Robertson, Boston, who jointly established a new world's record of 48 1-10 in yesterday's trial. The same thing will hold true in the running high jump, in which Harold M. Osborne, credited with a world's record of 6 feet 8½ inches, recently, will take violent issue with Leroy Brown, who did 6 feet 6½ inches at the eastern trials.

Also there will be the attempt of Glen Hartranft, believed to be the world's greatest weight man, to engineer a comeback. Hartranft qualified in the shot put and discus throw yesterday, but was not up to his usual mark.

Oilers Play White Sox

This afternoon the Glendale White Sox are meeting the Gilmore Oilers at the San Fernando park as the main attraction for baseball booster day. The Oilers were substituted at the last minute, when the team from the U. S. S. New Mexico, champions of the Pacific fleet, had to cancel the game scheduled for today on account of the terrible tragedy on board the U. S. S. Mississippi Thursday. Today's game is a regular Summer League game, and a victory for the Oilers will put them in position to worry the Pasadena Merchants for second place. The line-ups for today's game follow:

Diet and Health

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

Mrs. E.—You must see the physician who is going to take charge of you when you have your baby. Repeat the visits to the doctor every month until the end of the sixth month, and thereafter at least every two weeks, possibly every week, especially during the last month or two. At these examinations the blood pressure and the weight will be taken, and examination of the urine and of the breasts and other examinations made, if necessary.

In reducing during pregnancy, special precautions have to be taken not to cut down on the foods that are necessary for the health and growth of the baby. At least one quart of milk should be taken every day, for its lime and complete protein. The only things that you can safely cut down on are fats and concentrated sweets and pastries. As the child is gaining in weight, if your weight remains stationary, that will show that you are losing. Don't try to lose too much.

Miss L.—The articles on tuberculosis have sent to you. I

W. M.—Yes, it is thought that syphilis is curable, but the treatment has to be prolonged some years. If you are not in position to go to a private physician, get in touch with your health department, and it will advise you what to do. Perhaps there is a venereal clinic in your city.

Syphilis is infectious in the Yes, gonorrhoea is infectious, sores and skin eruptions. It is not openly infectious during the stages when it settles in the internal organs and the brain, but it can be passed on to offspring at any stage. In other words, it is one of the disease that is congenital.

"Dear Doctor Lulu: How I wish I could tell you how much good I am deriving every day from your columns in our paper! I have your 'Diet and Health' also, and have lost twentyeight pounds. Oh, what a grand and glorious feeling to hear some one say, 'Well! I didn't know you!' I got rid of many of my ailments along with the fat. I go around singing your praises and I feel I owe you a debt of gratitude I never can repay. I have never seen anything in your column about dandruff and falling hair. Will you write about that soon? Gratefully—Mrs. D."

Since you wrote your letter, we have had the series on dandruff, falling hair and baldness. If you missed them, send a s. a. s. e. with your request and you may have them.

You have paid your little debt, Mrs. D., when you write and let me know about your good results. Singing my praises helps, too, for that means spreading the glad tidings that it is not necessary to be overweight, and that health and happiness and better looks come in the wake of reducing—by the right method.

Monday—Insomnia No. 3

My Dear Followers:—When sending for material which we offer you please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget the s. a. s. e. if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

Beauty Chats

By EDNA KENT FORBES

WHEN YOU HAVEN'T TIME

When you haven't time for a regular beauty treatment and you want to make yourself look especially nice you may find the following suggestions useful.

If your nails look badly and you haven't time to stop and manicure them, take a half or a third of a lemon, rub it all around the fingers and the nails, digging the fingers well into its juicy depth. This juice bleaches stains, cleans the skin and by its astringent action gives a temporarily nice finish to the cuticle around the nails. Wash off the juice as you wash your hands and polish the nails vigorously. As the result of not more than a minute and a half's work you will have white fingers, pink tipped as they always should be, with proper glossy nails. You will look well manicured even though you're not.

If it's your hair which looks limp and oily, saturate a tiny sponge in a mixture of half cologne and half water, rub it well over the scalp and down the length of strands of your hair, paying more attention, of course, to the outside part of your hair which shows. As it dries rub the scalp vigorously with the finger tips. Your hair will be fluffy and life-like and easier to do up. But, if your hair is moussey looking and dry, dip your fingers in olive oil run them up through the hair and massage, then brush vigorously. You will brush this tiny bit of oil through the hair and make it glossy. An even quicker, temporary treatment is brilliantine.

If your skin looks dead, pull your hair back, rub your face full of cold cream and take it off by holding a small towel wrung from hot water over the skin, using it after it has cooled to wipe off the cold cream. Take a bit of absorbent cotton, wet it with toilet water, diluted cologne or astringent, wipe over the face, and then powder. If you haven't any of these astringents, rinse the face with very cold or ice water.

Bonny B. E., Francis:—After using all these camphor mixtures on your bust without reducing it, the thing to do now is to dress in such a way that it will not be so pronounced. By lacing the corsets so they are very loose for a couple of inches above and below the waistline, the bust will appear to be very much less prominent. Choose a corset with a very low bust and depend upon a brassiere to give the bust support; but a better way is to keep all the muscles so firm that no support will be needed. This may often be effected through deep breathing and dashing cold water over the chest every morning, followed by light friction from a coarse towel.

Mickey:—You are about ten pounds underweight. Build up your health by getting outdoors a great deal, and by eating plenty of light, nourishing food. The eruptions will probably disappear as you improve your weight.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be asnwered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

Heart and Home

By MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

A LOVE TO FORGET

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl 17 years old and am going with a boy one year older than I. I have been going with him for a year. He is jealous of me and doesn't want me to go with other boys. He talks about getting married, but he couldn't furnish a home the way I would want it. My father doesn't want me to go with him for he is a poor boy and has to work and he doesn't like to work. Otherwise he likes him. I love him in some ways and not in others for he does things which make me dislike him. Before I met this boy I had been going with a boy the same age as I am. We went together for six months and then he quit me, but he did not go with any other girl for a long time. He wouldn't even speak to me. His brother was going with my sister, but he said he didn't know what the trouble was. One day we met and he spoke. After that his brother and my sister were married and he and I stood up together. His folks and my sister moved away from here and he went too. They invited me to spend Christmas with them, which I did not do. Then he and I started writing letters and later when I visited my sister he took me to shows and treated me as he had when we were going together. When I left for home his father told me to wait for him. I told him I would. The last time my sister and his brother came to see us I asked why he did not write and they said he worked from early morning until late at night and besides he was taking another girl to shows. This made me jealous for I love him more than the one I am going with now. Do you think he cares anything for me? My father and mother want me to go with him and not the other. Please advise me which one you think it better for me to go with. Also please tell me some way I can win back his love. A. E. C.

The young man who is living out of town certainly does not care for you or he would write and would make his interest in you evident. An effort to forget him would be far wiser than to win back his love, because if you do anything in that way he will think you are running after him. Forget about love and marriage for the time being and I am confident that before long some one else will come into your life whom you will love. It does not pay to try to force love and therefore consider the boy you are going with now as a friend only. Do not permit him to talk of love and marriage because that would only encourage him to think you return his love, which of course is not true. At your age you have no reason to become alarmed because you have not made your choice of a husband.

BLUE EYES (No. 2).—Since the boy's mother wrote to you and invited you to visit their camp, it will be all right for you to go. Forget about gossips and, as long as you know in your heart you are doing nothing which could be criticised, cease to worry. Personally I think a knicker suit would be appropriate for camp. You can judge for yourself whether or not the boy and his people would approve of such a costume. Since you are to be their guest I would not advise you to wear it unless they approve.

ON THE DOCTRINE OF RACE

OF FEW TERMS in general use has the average man a less accurate comprehension than of the word "race."

There is, it appeared to Edward Augustus Freeman, English historian, a distinct doctrine of race, and of sympathies founded on race, distinct from the feeling of community of religion, and distinct from the feeling of nationality in the narrower sense.

"It is not so simple or easy a feeling as either of these two. It does not in the same way lie on the surface; it is not in the same way grounded on obvious facts which are plain to every man's understanding.

"The doctrine of race is essentially an artificial doctrine, a learned doctrine. It is an inference from facts which the mass of mankind never could have found out for themselves; facts which, without a distinctly learned teaching, could never be brought home to them in any intelligible shape. Now what is the value of such a doctrine?

"Does it follow that, because it is confessedly artificial, because it springs, not from spontaneous impulse, but from a learned teaching, it is therefore necessarily foolish, mischievous, perhaps unnatural?

"It may perhaps be safer to hold that it may, like other doctrines and sentiments, have a range within which it may work for good, while in some other range it may work for evil. It may in short be a doctrine which is neither to be rashly accepted, nor rashly cast aside, but one which may need be guided, regulated, modified, according to time, place, and circumstance.

"I must emphatically say that nothing can be more shallow, nothing more foolish, nothing more purely sentimental, than the talk of those who think that they can simply laugh down or shriek down any doctrine or sentiment which they themselves do not understand.

"A belief or a feeling which has a practical effect on the conduct of great masses of men, sometimes on the conduct of whole nations, may be very false and very mischievous; but it is in every case a great and serious fact, to be looked gravely in the face.

"Men who sit at their ease and think that all wisdom is confined to themselves and their own clique may think themselves vastly superior to the great emotions which stir our times, as they would doubtless have thought themselves superior to the emotions which stirred the first Saracens or the first Crusaders. But the emotions are there all the same, and they do their work all the same. The most highly educated society cannot sneer them out of being."

This doctrine of race is gone into a detail by Freeman in an essay on "Race and Language." In it he does much to clear up the perplexing relations of race with language, custom, and blood.

THE BAXTER BEASLEYS— —by GENE CARR

PEG, I HAVE A WONDERFUL THOUGHT FOR A PICTURE— A RAGGED LITTLE GIRL AN' BOY STANDING IN A DISMAL COURT YARD— ON EVERY SIDE OF THEM ARE TOWERIN' AN' SINISTER TOMBS OF POVERTY, CALLED TENEMENTS! OH I CAN SEE IT! — HUNGRY LEAN CATS SLINK ALONG THE EDGE OF BUILDINGS— SHADOWS ARE NEVER THERE! THERE IS A NARROW OPENING BETWEEN TWO BLACK TENEMENTS, JUST WIDE ENOUGH TO SEE THE EDGE OF A SILVER CLOUD— THE GIRL SAYS TO THE BOY— JIMMIE AINT NATURE GRAND?
BAXTER! BAXTER!
WHY PEG! I DIDNT INTEND TO UPSET YOU! ITS ONLY THE POET IN ME!
OH! WHAT AN OIL CAN YOU TURNED OUT TO BE!

PHILIPPINE FANATICS

Religious fanatics have become quite prominent in the Philippine Islands, and the recent "colorum" outbreak on the island of Bucas was a religious outbreak that accounted for more than twenty dead. The "colorum" took place among the country people who live in bands in the mountains, and each leader of a "colorum" band thinks he is a personal emissary from Christ. A few of the chiefs have even claimed to be the Savior himself.

COMMODITY NOTES

By Special Correspondents of The Evening News, Copyright, 1924.

WOOL

SONORA, Tex., June 14.—Sutton county wool men have sold 344,000 pounds of wool at prices believed to have been well in line with previous sales at which eight months' clips brought from 42 to 44 cents and 12 months' wool 47 to 50 cents. Shearing is incomplete owing to shortage of shearers.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 14.—With only about a third of their wool sold, sheep men of California and Nevada who refused to contract at high prices early in the season are finding bids falling off. A few weeks ago 39 to 41 cents a pound was offered, but lately buyers have secured about 400,000 pounds around 32½ to 33½ cents.

OIL

SHREVEPORT, June 14.—A curtailment of output in the Smackover oil field is expected to follow the cut of 15 cents a barrel announced in all four grades of crude in that district. There are now 4,000,000 barrels in storage.

ST. LOUIS, June 14.—The Missouri Pacific road carried 6,259 cars of crude and refined oil in May, as compared with 5,441 cars in April. The total movement so far this year has been 29,173 cars, against 23,793 last year.

COTTON

BOSTON, June 14.—New England mills have resumed selling cotton on the ground that curtailment indicates little use for the staple this year. They are protecting themselves by buying futures, which are low enough to give them a profit.

SUGAR

NEW ORLEANS, June 14.—The sugar market has suddenly galvanized activity with a good demand for refined. Consumers are placing orders for future delivery for the first time in sixty days, owing to hot weather and possibility of further price advances. Refiners' stocks and reserves of raw sugar are lower than usual.

GRAIN

FORT WORTH, June 14.—The recent sudden advance in the price of wheat is expected to bring an additional $500,000 to growers in west Texas. Harvest is now in full blast in half the belt and farmers expect to sell on the improving market.

NON-FERROUS METALS

JUNEAU, Alaska, June 14.—Copper production in Alaska showed a falling off in May, according to John C. McBride, collector of customs here. Exports amounted to 6,375,469 pounds, as against 6,538,827 in April. Most of the output came from the Motherlode and Kennecott mines.

STEEL

CHICAGO, June 14.—Steel mills in the Chicago district have been more active recently, with indications that the slump in production may have reached bottom. Pig iron is selling at $22.

PITTSBURGH, June 14.—There has been a better inquiry this week for plates and shapes. There also have been some rush orders in finishing mills and a few reorders for sheets, which are firming up. Pipe business is somewhat better, but wire products are unchanged.

FRUIT

SAN FRANCISCO, June 14.—The packing season for California asparagus will end within the next three weeks with smallest pack recorded for several years. Almost the entire crop has been sold on advance contracts at an advance of 25 per cent.

TEXTILES

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., June 14.—The Soule mills here have gone on a four-day week schedule, owing to falling off in orders.

COAL

ST. LOUIS, June 14.—Large coal consumers in this district are running down their stocks preparatory to inventory. They will begin replenishing after June 30.

BUSINESS WORLD

By J. C. ROYLE
Special Correspondent of The Evening News, Copyright, 1924

NEW YORK, June 14.—The slight slump in business activity which has had a bearing on rail freight movements and on inland water-borne traffic apparently has not affected the general volume of tonnage passing through the Panama Canal. Certainly it has not lessened confidence of vessel men in the inter-coastal trade between Atlantic and Pacific ports which has been showing a remarkable growth in the last two years.

The companies now in that trade are to have two new competitors. Announcement has just been made that the Pacific Motorship company, backed by Santa Barbara capitalists, will take over several shipping board vessels, refit them as motor ships and establish a 12-day service between San Francisco and New York. The Garland Steamship company which has had its vessels on the trans-Pacific run announces that it will put seven of its ships into the inter-Coastal trade. This is taken in California as a reflection of the dullness in trade to the Far East as well as of the growing importance of the Panama route.

Latest government figures indicate that the Panama tonnage is holding up remarkably. In April 403 vessels with a net tonnage of 2,053,171 and a cargo tonnage of 2,158,721 passed through the locks. The figures for May are not complete but 417 vessels were locked through. These figures compared with 404 ships, net tonnage of 2,007,690 and cargo tonnage of 2,187,145 for April 1923 and 419 vessels, net tonnage of 2,128,145 and cargo tonnage of 2,263,083 for May, 1923.

The total vessels sent through the Canal for the first five months was 2,143 compared with 1,910 last year while the cargo tonnage for the first four months was 9,102,141 compared with 7,283,283 in 1923.

Shipments from St. Louis on all rivers in the Lower Mississippi watershed since the season opened late in March, have totaled between 58,000 and 60,000 tons, considerably less than last year while 38,000 tons have been received at that port. Most of this tonnage was handled by the government-operated Mississippi-Warrior barge service. Slackness of foreign demand for grain and the late start of the season caused the decline. Grain shipments have totaled only 200,000 bushels and now are moving at the rate of 3,000 to 5,000 bushels a week. Receipts have been largely confined to sugar, coffee, ore and burlap.

There has been a drop in the freight movement between the Gulf ports and the Pacific by way of the Canal. Formerly 12 steamers were on these runs with sailings once a week and carrying capacity cargoes. Recently three have been laid off and the cargoes of the others have not been heavy. This month shipments are expected to fall 40 per cent from the peak of the year. The largest drop has been in steel products westbound from New Orleans and Mobile. Fruit shipments from California have held up fairly well and crude oil brought to New Orleans and Baton Rouge has swelled the cargo total.

With a record of nearly twelve million tons passing through the Sault Ste Marie Canals in May, the prospect is for a decline in shipping on the Great Lakes this month. Cargoes are becoming scarce and the number of idle vessels is increasing. This is due somewhat to the slackening of steel operations, the decline in grain movement from Upper Lake ports and a curtailment in coal shipments from Lake Erie ports to the head of the Lakes. In May 2,135 vessels locked through the Soo carried cargoes of 9,654,799 tons of which 6,629,891 tons was ore eastbound and 1,135,098 tons of coal westbound.

The slackening of operations at the steel plants in Ohio and Pennsylvania has cut down the tonnage moving on the rivers. River transportation of sand and building materials in the Pittsburgh district, however, has been of unprecedented volume. In May 105,442 tons were moved on the Allegheny River compared with 81,850 in April while an even greater tonnage of sand and gravel was carried on the Monongahela. The drop in steel tonnage on the Allegheny, Monongahela and Ohio rivers in May and early June amounted to nearly 33 per cent compared with April.

FINANCIAL BRIEFS

By Southland News Service

Regular quarterly dividends have been declared by Paige-Detroit and Victor Talking Machine, indicating there is no let up in profit-taking by either the automobile or musical lines.

Temperatures approaching 100 degrees yesterday in the Kansas wheat belt are causing some concern to buyers and the market is called "creeping bullish." The sudden change in weather had added a physical effect to trading.

Marland Oil company of California has leased 2500 acres in the Goshen district of Tulare county, California, and field agents are negotiating for much more of the Tulare lake bottom country.

Advances in new $25 Woolworth par common stock to a record high price is attributed to continued reports of record-breaking business.

Kansas' wheat crop is estimated at from 100 to 130 million bushels while Oklahoma will provide another 45,000,000 bushels, according to E. F. Hutton & Co.'s leased wire.

BUSINESS NEWS

Special Corespondence of The Evening News, Copyright, 1924.

NEW ORLEANS, La., June 14.—Jobbing and manufacturing business in this section has shown no improvement recently and most orders received are for filling in purposes. Retail business is fairly good in lines where price reductions have been made, but high priced articles are slow sellers. Retail trade in general is from 5 to 7 per cent under that for June last year. May building permits rose to one of the high points of the year and this month shows a continuation of the trend.

DETROIT, Mich., June 14.—Building operations are holding up here despite increases in building costs. Union plasterers who comprise about half the force in that trade working here have compromised a demand for $14 a day by accepting $12.50, for an 8-hour day which for a full 7-day week with overtime penalties, would yield $105 a week.

ATLANTA, Ga., June 14.—Twenty-one Latin-American countries have agreed to send representatives here in October to attend the Pan-American Commercial Congress now being arranged to cultivate better relationships between Southeastern shippers and merchants of those countries.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—The interstate commerce commission has authorized the Atlantic Coast Line railroad and the Louisville & Nashville railroad to acquire joint control of the Carolina, Clinchfield & Ohio system, on condition that the Clinchfield system be set up as a separate organization.

CHICAGO, June 14.—The Union Pacific railway is actively seeking the control of the Chicago Great Western lines with the intent of obtaining a through route over its own tracks into Chicago, it is reported here today. Officials of the road refuse to confirm or deny the reported activities.

MOSCOW, June 14.—The Russian state budget for July, August and September will show an exceses of receipts over expenditures for the first time since the revolution, it was reported in high communist circles today.

L. A. EXCHANGE

By Southland News Service

LOS ANGELES, June 14.—Spirited trading in numerous small deals, particularly the oils, featured the local exchange this morning in Saturday's short session.

Julian preferred was steady at $31.75 during numerous transactions while Julian common opened at $19.50 and rose to $19.75 where it stood firm through many transactions. Globe petroleum also showed the upward trend of the market when it opened at 2½ cents and immediately jumped to 3 cents when buying began. Scattering sales in other oil stocks indicate these issues will be more active.

Among the industrials Edison common was selling in various small deals at $101, while 7 per cent preferred was bringing $103.25 Twenty shares of Southern California Gas 6 per cent preferred changed hands at $91.25 and five shares sold later for $91 flat.

It was a bad day for mining stocks, perhaps due to bearish foreign reports, and Richmond, that opened at 12 cents slumped to 10 with only 8½ bid.

Otherwise the market has an optimistic tone which is most encouraging in face of vacation period and warm weather.

CHICAGO WHEAT

By International News Service

CHICAGO, June 14.—Grains closed generally strong today, wheat leading the advancing and holding gains of 1 1-4 to 1 1-2 at the close. Corn closed unchanged to 1-2 higher, oats 1-8 off to 1-4 up. Cable advices showed strength in wheat at Liverpool with moderate actual demand. Satisfactory progress in the new wheat crop was reported from the Argentine.

NEW YORK CLOSING

H. J. DUIZEND
For International News Service

NEW YORK, June 14.—Stocks today showed a tendency to resume the advance which had been interrupted by the profit-taking of the last few days.

The interests were greatly impressed by the indifference with which the news of the eastern crude oil was received and adopted this calmness as a sign that the process of digesting this week's advance had been about completed and that the market might again be tested on the upward side.

Oil shares, of course, in the initial dealings, were offered down by the professional element, which directed their guns against shares of companies operating in the mid-continent fields because of the price uncertainty surrounding the conditions in that territory. Selling by short operators found its way quickly into the hands of those who have been impressed by reports of increasing consumption of petroleum production and of a steady reduction in surplus stocks of gasoline in various parts of the country.

Consequently, short lines previously put out were pulled in and a better tone developed throughout the list.

Equipments, coppers, tobaccos and shippings were practically unchanged.

Motors, however, tended toward heaviness, Mallinson developed strength in connection with the recovery in the commodity.

Such old investment issues as Great Northern preferred, Norfolk & Western and Pennsylvania were again affected by the current ease in credit conditions. Low-priced rails were featured by Western Pacific common and preferred. The market closed firm.

Bond trading was again in large volume. In the United States government group treasury 4's reached a fresh high record at 105. Foreign exchanges were higher.

Cotton was reactionary. Stock sales today were: 400,400 shares; bonds $11,090,000. Stock sales for the week totaled 4,487,900 shares; bonds $125,147,000.

The oil industry must be prepared to supply an average of 900 million gallons of gasoline a month until the close of the tourist season November 1, according to estimates emanating from New York.

INVESTMENTS

By GEORGE T. HUGHES
Special Correspondent of The Evening News, Copyright, 1924.

Sixteen million dollars of 5½ per cent debenture bonds were offered recently by the Gulf Oil corporation of Pennsylvania. A few weeks before that the American Telephone and Telegraph company offered 100 million dollars of 5½ per cent debenture bonds. Both issues were sold immediately. Those two issues illustrate a valuable and simple phase of financing that is not fully appreciated by the public. In personal business transactions men and banks readily accept unsecured, promissory notes when the general credit of the debtor is high. In a sense a debenture bond is similar to a promissory note. It is, however, much more than that. It is true that the loan is unsecured in that nothing is specifically mortgaged. Nevertheless there are certain protective provisions in all sound debenture issues which raise the investment above the promissory note.

Consider, for instance, the provisions under which the two debentures referred to were sold. The Gulf Oil Corporation agrees that so long as any of these 5½ per cent debentures are outstanding and unpaid it will not create or permit to exist any secured indebtedness upon or against its properties including the properties of subsidiary companies excepting purchase money obligations on hereafter acquired property. It also agrees that the quick assets of the company and its subsidiaries shall at all times be at least equal to the aggregate amount of their indebtedness, including the amount of these bonds then outstanding.

In the same way the American Telephone & Telegraph company undertakes not to put any mortgage upon any of its telephone lines or plants unless at the same time it puts up as security for these debentures stocks and bonds of its operating companies. In other words it will not increase its secured indebtedness unless at the same time it puts up collateral for these now unsecured debentures. The idea is that if at any time in the future the company finds it necessary to give security for new capital the interests of the holders of the debentures will not be subordinated. Similar provisions have been embodied in many railroad debentures. In some cases they have proved of great value to the holders.

Before purchasing a security of this kind the particular provisions should be carefully examined in each case but when to the restrictions upon the company in a debenture bond are added a long and honorable record of promptly meeting its obligations, a sound financial condition exhibited by its balance sheet and profitable operations testified to by earnings statements, debenture bonds rank with many mortgage loans.

RODENTS WISER THAN CLASSMEN

Queer University Test in Chicago Shows Rats Better in Dark

CHICAGO, June 14.—Rats have proven themselves superior to University of Chicago students—in some ways—according to an announcement of C. Tsai, a graduate student of the Psychology Department.

Tsai conducted his experiment by means of an especially prepared maze of ruts or labyrinth of passages and grooves. The rats were placed in the ruts, over which they could not see, and were expected to find their way out. Students were put through the same test, being blindfolded and expected to feel their way out with the aid of their fingers.

The rats proved the more efficient.

Repeat Test

Then, to make the test more complete and to bring the memory into play, the students and the rats were put through the same test one week later. Again the rats proved superior. They remembered the way out better than the students.

The test, Tsai adds, does not show brain development, but demonstrates a greater amount of muscular and motor power.

HUNTED BY RADIO

A radio broadcasting station in Brooklyn recently interrupted its regular evening program to announce the fact that a dog belonging to Helen Lippelt, a local school girl, had been lost or become strayed or stolen, and at the instigation of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals asked the hearers to send in any clues as to the canine's whereabouts.

KEEN BILLIARDIST

Paderewski, the Polish pianist and statesman, is known for his diversity of interests, and among these is his fondness for a game of billiards. He is a crack player and, although after giving up his political career and returning to the concert stage he had to give more time to his music, he still uses the billiard room for much of his recreation.

Ready-made clothing is unknown in Venezuela and there are 40,000 sewing machines, one to every 100 inhabitants, in use there.
